The White House Office of Cabinet Affairs

Requests the pleasure of your company at a farewell reception for

The Honorable Ed Ingle, Deputy Assistant to the President and Deputy

Cabinet Secretary

on Thursday, June 12th from 5:00-6:30pm

in the Indian Treaty Room of the Eisenhower Executive Office Building

Please RSVP by Monday, June 9th via e-mail to akebric@who.eop.gov and include clearance information if necessary.

From: Greenstone, Adam F.
To: <Cropper, Stacia L.>
CC: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>; <Solari, Carlos>
Sent: 6/4/2003 4:24:18 PM
Subject: E-Mail Switchover

Stacia--Once the CIO's office switches you over to a White House Office account in consonance with your new role, I understand that you will be able to view your previous OA e-mails from your old account. However, the OA e-mails will remain in the original electronic records "buckets" in which they were originally placed. (I.e., the OA "bucket.") Accordingly, if you use one of these e-mails for an action or project you are working on in the White House Office, you should print it out and include it in your WHO files so it will be records managed as a Presidential record as well. Let me know if you have any questions.

108th CONGRESS
1st Session
H. R. 1115

To amend the procedures that apply to consideration of interstate class actions to assure fairer outcomes for class members and defendants, to outlaw certain practices that provide inadequate settlements for class members, to assure that attorneys do not receive a disproportionate amount of settlements at the expense of class members, to provide for clearer and simpler information in class action settlement notices, to assure prompt consideration of interstate class actions, to amend title 28, United States Code, to allow the application of the principles of Federal diversity jurisdiction to interstate class actions, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

March 6, 2003

Mr. GOODLATTE (for himself, Mr. BOUCHER, Mr. SENSENBRENNER, Mr. MORAN of Virginia, Mr. SMITH of Texas, Mr. STENHOLM, Mr. DELAY, Mr. DOOLEY of California, Mr. HYDE, Mr. HOLDEN, Mr. COX, and Mr. CRAMER) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

A BILL

To amend the procedures that apply to consideration of interstate class actions to assure fairer outcomes for class members and defendants, to outlaw certain practices that provide inadequate settlements for class members, to assure that attorneys do not receive a disproportionate amount of settlements at the expense of class members, to provide for clearer and simpler information in class action settlement notices, to assure prompt consideration of interstate class actions, to amend title 28, United States Code, to allow the application of the principles of Federal diversity jurisdiction to interstate class actions, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; REFERENCE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

(a) SHORT TITLE- This Act may be cited as the 'Class Action Fairness Act of 2003'.

(b) REFERENCE- Whenever in this Act reference is made to an amendment to, or repeal of, a section or other provision, the reference shall be considered to be made to a section or other provision of title 28, United States Code.

- (c) TABLE OF CONTENTS- The table of contents for this Act is as follows:
- Sec. 1. Short title; reference; table of contents.
  - Sec. 2. Findings and purposes.
  - Sec. 3. Consumer class action bill of rights and improved procedures for interstate class actions.
  - Sec. 4. Federal district court jurisdiction of interstate class actions.
  - Sec. 5. Removal of interstate class actions to Federal district court.
  - Sec. 6. Appeals of class action certification orders.
  - Sec. 7. Effective date.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

- (a) FINDINGS- The Congress finds as follows:

- (1) Class action lawsuits are an important and valuable part of our legal system when they permit the fair and efficient resolution of legitimate claims of numerous parties by allowing the claims to be aggregated into a single action against a defendant that has allegedly caused harm.
- (2) Over the past decade, there have been abuses of the class action device that have--
  - (A) harmed class members with legitimate claims and defendants that have acted responsibly;
  - (B) adversely affected interstate commerce; and
  - (C) undermined public respect for the judicial system in the United States.
- (3) Class members have been harmed by a number of actions taken by plaintiffs' lawyers, which provide little or no benefit to class members as a whole, including--
  - (A) plaintiffs' lawyers receiving large fees, while class members are left with coupons or other awards of little or no value;
  - (B) unjustified rewards being made to certain plaintiffs at the expense of other class members; and
  - (C) the publication of confusing notices that prevent class members from being able to fully understand and effectively exercise their rights.
- (4) Through the use of artful pleading, plaintiffs are able to avoid litigating class actions in Federal court, forcing businesses and other organizations to defend interstate class action lawsuits in county and State courts where--
  - (A) the lawyers, rather than the claimants, are likely to receive the maximum benefit;
  - (B) less scrutiny may be given to the merits of the case; and
  - (C) defendants are effectively forced into settlements, in order to avoid the possibility of huge judgments that could destabilize their companies.

(5) These abuses undermine the Federal judicial system, the free flow of interstate commerce, and the intent of the framers of the Constitution in creating diversity jurisdiction, in that county and State courts are--

(A) handling interstate class actions that affect parties from many States;

(B) sometimes acting in ways that demonstrate bias against out-of-State defendants; and

(C) making judgments that impose their view of the law on other States and bind the rights of the residents of those States.

(6) Abusive interstate class actions have harmed society as a whole by forcing innocent parties to settle cases rather than risk a huge judgment by a local jury, thereby costing consumers billions of dollars in increased costs to pay for forced settlements and excessive judgments.

(b) PURPOSES- The purposes of this Act are--

(1) to assure fair and prompt recoveries for class members with legitimate claims;

(2) to protect responsible companies and other institutions against interstate class actions in State courts;

(3) to restore the intent of the framers of the Constitution by providing for Federal court consideration of interstate class actions; and

(4) to benefit society by encouraging innovation and lowering consumer prices.

SEC. 3. CONSUMER CLASS ACTION BILL OF RIGHTS AND IMPROVED PROCEDURES FOR INTERSTATE CLASS ACTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL- Part V is amended by inserting after chapter 113 the following:

`CHAPTER 114--CLASS ACTIONS

`Sec.

`1711. Judicial scrutiny of coupon and other noncash settlements.

`1712. Protection against loss by class members.

`1713. Protection against discrimination based on geographic location.

`1714. Prohibition on the payment of bounties.

`1715. Clearer and simpler settlement information.

`1716. Definitions.

`Sec. 1711. Judicial scrutiny of coupon and other noncash settlements

`The court may approve a proposed settlement under which the class members would receive noncash benefits or would otherwise be required to expend funds in order to obtain part or all of the proposed benefits only after a hearing to determine whether, and making a written finding that, the settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate for class members.

`Sec. 1712. Protection against loss by class members

`The court may approve a proposed settlement under which any class member is obligated to pay sums to class counsel that would result in a net loss to the class member only if the court makes a written finding that nonmonetary benefits to the class member outweigh the monetary loss.

`Sec. 1713. Protection against discrimination based on geographic location

`The court may not approve a proposed settlement that provides for the payment of greater sums to some class members than to others solely on the basis that the class members to whom the greater sums are to be paid are located in closer geographic proximity to the court.

`Sec. 1714. Prohibition on the payment of bounties

`(a) IN GENERAL- The court may not approve a proposed settlement that provides for the payment of a greater share of the award to a class representative serving on behalf of a class, on the basis of the formula for distribution to all other class members, than that awarded to the other class members.

`(b) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION- The limitation in subsection (a) shall not be construed to prohibit any payment approved by the court for reasonable time or costs that a person was required to expend in fulfilling his or her obligations as a class representative.

`Sec. 1715. Clearer and simpler settlement information

`(a) PLAIN ENGLISH REQUIREMENTS- Any court with jurisdiction over a plaintiff class action shall require that any written notice concerning a proposed settlement of the class action provided to the class through the mail or publication in printed media contain--

`(1) at the beginning of such notice, a statement in 18-point Times New Roman type or other functionally similar type, stating `LEGAL NOTICE: YOU ARE A PLAINTIFF IN A CLASS ACTION LAWSUIT AND YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS ARE AFFECTED BY THE SETTLEMENT DESCRIBED IN THIS NOTICE.'; and

`(2) a short summary written in plain, easily understood language, describing--

`(A) the subject matter of the class action;

`(B) the members of the class;

`(C) the legal consequences of being a member of the class;

`(D) if the notice is informing class members of a proposed settlement agreement--

`(i) the benefits that will accrue to the class due to the settlement;

- `(ii) the rights that class members will lose or waive through the settlement;
- `(iii) obligations that will be imposed on the defendants by the settlement;
- `(iv) the dollar amount of any attorney's fee class counsel will be seeking, or if not possible, a good faith estimate of the dollar amount of any attorney's fee class counsel will be seeking; and
- `(v) an explanation of how any attorney's fee will be calculated and funded; and `(E) any other material matter.

`(b) TABULAR FORMAT- Any court with jurisdiction over a plaintiff class action shall require that the information described in subsection (a)--

- `(1) be placed in a conspicuous and prominent location on the notice;
- `(2) contain clear and concise headings for each item of information; and
- `(3) provide a clear and concise form for stating each item of information required to be disclosed under each heading.

`(c) TELEVISION OR RADIO NOTICE- Any notice provided through television or radio (including transmissions by cable or satellite) to inform the class members in a class action of the right of each member to be excluded from the class action or a proposed settlement of the class action, if such right exists, shall, in plain, easily understood language--

- `(1) describe the persons who may potentially become class members in the class action; and
- `(2) explain that the failure of a class member to exercise his or her right to be excluded from a class action will result in the person's inclusion in the class action or settlement.

`Sec. 1716. Definitions

`In this chapter--

- `(1) CLASS ACTION- The term 'class action' means any civil action filed in a district court of the United States pursuant to rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or any civil action that is removed to a district court of the United States that was originally filed pursuant to a State statute or rule of judicial procedure authorizing an action to be brought by one or more representatives on behalf of a class.

- `(2) CLASS COUNSEL- The term 'class counsel' means the persons who serve as the attorneys for the class members in a proposed or certified class action.

- `(3) CLASS MEMBERS- The term 'class members' means the persons who fall within the definition of the proposed or certified class in a class action.

`(4) PLAINTIFF CLASS ACTION- The term `plaintiff class action' means a class action in which class members are plaintiffs.

`(5) PROPOSED SETTLEMENT- The term `proposed settlement' means an agreement that resolves claims in a class action, that is subject to court approval, and that, if approved, would be binding on the class members.'.

(b) TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENT- The table of chapters for part V is amended by inserting after the item relating to chapter 113 the following:

--1711'.

SEC. 4. FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT JURISDICTION OF INTERSTATE CLASS ACTIONS.

(a) APPLICATION OF FEDERAL DIVERSITY JURISDICTION- Section 1332 is amended--

(1) by redesignating subsection (d) as subsection (e); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (c) the following:

`(d)(1) In this subsection--

`(A) the term `class' means all of the class members in a class action;

`(B) the term `class action' means any civil action filed pursuant to rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or similar State statute or rule of judicial procedure authorizing an action to be brought by one or more representative persons on behalf of a class;

`(C) the term `class certification order' means an order issued by a court approving the treatment of a civil action as a class action; and

`(D) the term `class members' means the persons who fall within the definition of the proposed or certified class in a class action.

`(2) The district courts shall have original jurisdiction of any civil action in which the matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $2,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is a class action in which--

`(A) any member of a class of plaintiffs is a citizen of a State different from any defendant;

`(B) any member of a class of plaintiffs is a foreign state or a citizen or subject of a foreign state and any defendant is a citizen of a State; or

`(C) any member of a class of plaintiffs is a citizen of a State and any defendant is a foreign state or a citizen or subject of a foreign state.

`(3) Paragraph (2) shall not apply to any civil action in which--

`(A)(i) the substantial majority of the members of the proposed plaintiff class and the primary defendants are citizens of the State in which the action was originally filed; and

`(ii) the claims asserted therein will be governed primarily by the laws of the State in which the action was originally filed;

`(B) the primary defendants are States, State officials, or other governmental entities against whom the district court may be foreclosed from ordering relief; or

- `(C) the number of proposed plaintiff class members is less than 100.
- `(4) In any class action, the claims of the individual class members shall be aggregated to determine whether the matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $2,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs.
- `(5) This subsection shall apply to any class action before or after the entry of a class certification order by the court with respect to that action.
- `(6)(A) A district court shall dismiss any civil action that is subject to the jurisdiction of the court solely under this subsection if the court determines the action may not proceed as a class action based on a failure to satisfy the requirements of rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
- `(B) Nothing in subparagraph (A) shall prohibit plaintiffs from filing an amended class action in Federal court or filing an action in State court, except that any such action filed in State court may be removed to the appropriate district court if it is an action of which the district courts of the United States have original jurisdiction.
- `(C) In any action that is dismissed under this paragraph and is filed by any of the original named plaintiffs therein in the same State court venue in which the dismissed action was originally filed, the limitations periods on all reasserted claims shall be deemed tolled for the period during which the dismissed class action was pending. The limitations periods on any claims that were asserted in a class action dismissed under this paragraph that are subsequently asserted in an individual action shall be deemed tolled for the period during which the dismissed action was pending.
- `(7) Paragraph (2) shall not apply to any class action brought by shareholders that solely involves a claim that relates to--
  - `(A) a claim concerning a covered security as defined under section 16(f)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933 and section 28(f)(5)(E) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934;
  - `(B) the internal affairs or governance of a corporation or other form of business enterprise and arises under or by virtue of the laws of the State in which such corporation or business enterprise is incorporated or organized; or
  - `(C) the rights, duties (including fiduciary duties), and obligations relating to or created by or pursuant to any security (as defined under section 2(a)(1) of the Securities Act of 1933 and the regulations issued thereunder).
- `(8) For purposes of this subsection and section 1453 of this title, an unincorporated association shall be deemed to be a citizen of the State where it has its principal place of business and the State under whose laws it is organized.

- `(9) For purposes of this section and section 1453 of this title, a civil action that is not otherwise a class action as defined in paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection shall nevertheless be deemed a class action if--

`(A) the named plaintiff purports to act for the interests of its members (who are not named parties to the action) or for the interests of the general public, seeks a remedy of damages, restitution, disgorgement, or any other form of monetary relief, and is not a State attorney general; or

`(B) monetary relief claims in the action are proposed to be tried jointly in any respect with the claims of 100 or more other persons on the ground that the claims involve common questions of law or fact.

In any such case, the persons who allegedly were injured shall be treated as members of a proposed plaintiff class and the monetary relief that is sought shall be treated as the claims of individual class members. The provisions of paragraphs (3) and (6) of this subsection and subsections (b)(2) and (d) of section 1453 shall not apply to civil actions described under subparagraph (A). The provisions of paragraph (6) of this subsection, and subsections (b)(2) and (d) of section 1453 shall not apply to civil actions described under subparagraph (B).'

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS-

(1) Section 1335(a)(1) is amended by inserting '(a) or (d)' after '1332'.

(2) Section 1603(b)(3) is amended by striking '(d)' and inserting '(e)'.

SEC. 5. REMOVAL OF INTERSTATE CLASS ACTIONS TO FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT.

(a) IN GENERAL- Chapter 89 is amended by adding after section 1452 the following:

`Sec. 1453. Removal of class actions

`(a) DEFINITIONS- In this section, the terms 'class', 'class action', 'class certification order', and 'class member' have the meanings given these terms in section 1332(d)(1).

`(b) IN GENERAL- A class action may be removed to a district court of the United States in accordance with this chapter, without regard to whether any defendant is a citizen of the State in which the action is brought, except that such action may be removed--

`(1) by any defendant without the consent of all defendants; or

`(2) by any plaintiff class member who is not a named or representative class member without the consent of all members of such class.

`(c) WHEN REMOVABLE- This section shall apply to any class action before or after the entry of a class certification order in the action, except that a plaintiff class member who is not a named or representative class member of the action may not seek removal of the action before an order certifying a class of which the plaintiff is a class member has been entered.

`(d) PROCEDURE FOR REMOVAL- The provisions of section 1446 relating to a defendant removing a case shall apply to a plaintiff removing a case under this section, except that in the application of subsection (b) of such section the requirement relating to the 30-day filing period shall be met if a plaintiff class member files notice of removal within 30 days after receipt by such class member, through service or otherwise, of the initial written notice of the class action.

`(e) REVIEW OF ORDERS REMANDING CLASS ACTIONS TO STATE COURTS- The provisions of section 1447 shall apply to any removal of a case under this section, except that, notwithstanding the provisions of section 1447(d), an order remanding a class action to the State court from which it was removed shall be reviewable by appeal or otherwise.

`(f) EXCEPTION- This section shall not apply to any class action brought by shareholders that solely involves--

`(1) a claim concerning a covered security as defined under section 16(f)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933 and section 28(f)(5)(E) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934;

`(2) a claim that relates to the internal affairs or governance of a corporation or other form of business enterprise and arises under or by virtue of the laws of the State in which such corporation or business enterprise is incorporated or organized; or

`(3) a claim that relates to the rights, duties (including fiduciary duties), and obligations relating to or created by or pursuant to any security (as defined under section 2(a)(1) of the Securities Act of 1933 and the regulations issued thereunder).'

(b) REMOVAL LIMITATION- Section 1446(b) is amended in the second sentence by inserting `(a)' after `section 1332'.

(c) TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS- The table of sections for chapter 89 is amended by adding after the item relating to section 1452 the following:

`1453. Removal of class actions.'

SEC. 6. APPEALS OF CLASS ACTION CERTIFICATION ORDERS.

(a) IN GENERAL- Section 1292(a) is amended by inserting after paragraph (3) the following:

`(4) Orders of the district courts of the United States granting or denying class certification under rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, if notice of appeal is filed within 10 days after entry of the order.'

(b) DISCOVERY STAY- All discovery and other proceedings shall be stayed during the pendency of any appeal taken pursuant to the amendment made by subsection (a), unless the court finds upon the motion of any party that specific discovery is necessary to preserve evidence or to prevent undue prejudice to that party.

SEC. 7. EFFECTIVE DATE.

The amendments made by this Act shall apply to any civil action commenced on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

June __, 2003
(House Rules)

H.R. 1115 - Class Action Fairness Act of 2003
(Rep. Goodlatte (R) Virginia and 37 cosponsors)

The Administration strongly supports the enactment of H.R. 1115 as an important step in reforming class action litigation. The bill will alleviate significant burdens on class action litigants and provide greater protections for the victims whom the class action device originally was designed to benefit.

Among the bill's many common sense provisions, the Administration strongly supports the proposal to establish a consumer class action bill of rights that would: (1) require notice of a lawsuit to class members in plain language; (2) require heightened judicial review of settlements that either result in a net loss to the class members or give class members only "coupons" or other non-cash benefits; and (3) prohibit a court from approving a settlement that discriminates among plaintiffs on account of their geographical location or status as class representatives.

The bill also would make long-needed changes to the requirements for Federal diversity jurisdiction over class action cases. The Administration strongly supports the proposal to permit removal of a class action to Federal court if the aggregate amount in controversy exceeds $2 million and there is minimal diversity (at least one plaintiff representative and one defendant are from different States). Combined with existing Federal rules for consolidation of related federal cases, this proposal would help avoid the inefficiency, waste, and unfairness that have too often resulted from multiple overlapping class action suits.

The Administration would also support adding, at the appropriate point in the legislative process, a provision to Section 7 of the bill to make clear that the Supreme Court cannot use its authority under Section 2072, 2074, or 2075 of Title 28 of the U.S. Code to issue rules that supersede this legislation and amendments made by this legislation.

*****KEY POINTS: MIDDLE EAST PEACE*****

From remarks by President Bush, Aqaba, Jordan, 6/4/03

-As President Bush said in Jordan: "Ultimately, permanent security requires peace, and permanent peace can only be obtained through security. And there is now hope of a new opportunity for peace between Israelis and Palestinians."

-The Holy Land must be shared between the state of Palestine and the state of Israel, living at peace with each other and with every nation of the Middle East.

-The friendship between Israel and the United States began at the time of Israel's creation. Today, America is strongly committed to Israel's security as a vibrant Jewish state.

-Prime Minister Abbas represents the cause of freedom and statehood for the Palestinian people. America strongly supports that cause, as well.

-As the Roadmap makes clear, both sides must make tangible immediate steps toward the two-state vision.

-The issue of settlements must be addressed for peace to be achieved. Prime Minister Sharon has stated that no unilateral actions by either side can or should prejudice the outcome of future negotiations.

-Prime Minister Abbas recognizes that terrorist crimes are a dangerous obstacle to the independent state his people seek. He agrees that the process for achieving that state is through peaceful negotiations.

-True peace requires the support of other nations in the region. In Sharm el-Sheikh, Arab leaders have promised to cut off assistance and the flow of money and weapons to terrorist groups, and to help Prime Minister Abbas rid Palestinian areas of terrorism.

*****PRESIDENT BUSH'S MESSAGE TO THE TROOPS IN QATAR*****

Camp As Sayliyah, Qatar, 6/4/03

-America sent its troops on a mission to remove a grave threat from Iraq, and to liberate an oppressed people. That mission has been accomplished and proud.

-The President thanked the British, the Australian, and the Polish forces for their service to the cause of freedom. He also thanked members of the armed forces of Qatar for their hospitality and friendship.

-We are in a global war on terror and, because of our forces, we are winning.

-Our troops have performed brilliantly. In Afghanistan, forces directed from Qatar and headquartered in Tampa delivered decisive blows against the Taliban and against al Qaeda. Now, the people of Afghanistan are free.

-Our actions have sent a clear message that our nation is strong and our nation is compassionate. Dictators can no longer shield themselves behind innocent people. Those who threaten the security of others now need to worry about their own.

What I was struggling to remember at morning staff meeting, from Henry V. Not funny, but quite inspiring:

This day is called the Feast of Crispian. He that outlives this day and comes safe home Will stand a-tiptoe when this day is named, And rouse him at the name of Crispian. He that shall see this day and live old age Will yearly on the vigil feast his neighbours, And say, 'Tomorrow is Saint Crispian.' Then will he strip his sleeve and show his scars, And say 'These wounds I had on Crispin's day.' Old men forget, yet all shall be forgot But he'll remember, with advantages, What feats he did that day. Then shall our names, Familiar in his mouth as household words, Harry the king, Bedford and Exeter, Warwick and Talbot, Salisbury and Gloucester, Be in their flowing cups freshly remembered. This story shall the good man teach his son, And Crispin Crispian shall ne'er go by From this day to the ending of the world But we in it shall be remembered. We few, we happy few, we band of brothers - For he today that sheds his blood with me Shall be my brother; be he ne'er so vile This day shall gentle his condition - And gentlemen in England, now abed, Shall think themselves accursed they were not here, And hold their manhoods cheap whiles any speaks That fought with us upon Saint Crispin's Day.

Due to a last minute scheduling conflict, Michael Barone will not be here at the White House tonight at 5:00. We are currently working on re-scheduling him and will let you know the details soon. We apologize for the inconvenience. Thank you for your understanding and your support.

"He knows more about everything in American politics than anyone else knows about anything in American politics."
--George F. Will on Michael Barone

Due to a last minute scheduling conflict, Michael Barone will not be here at the White House tonight at 5:00. We are currently working on re-scheduling him and will let you know the details soon. We apologize for the inconvenience. Thank you for your understanding and your support.

"He knows more about everything in American politics than anyone else knows about anything in American politics."
--George F. Will on Michael Barone

Due to a last minute scheduling conflict, Michael Barone will not be here at the White House tonight at 5:00. We are currently working on re-scheduling him and will let you know the details soon. We apologize for the inconvenience. Thank you for your understanding and your support.

"He knows more about everything in American politics than anyone else knows about anything in American politics."
--George F. Will on Michael Barone

Dear Friends:

I will be moving to the President's re-election campaign and I wanted to drop you a quick note to thank for your friendship and the wonderful experience working with each of you has been.

As you know, there will be a lot of changes in the Political Affairs Office. As of next Monday, I will no longer be checking this email address or my WH phone. For questions related to Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, please contact Darren Bearson at 6-5275 or Darren\_Bearson@who.eop.gov. He is the new Associate Director for that part of the country.

For the other states I've worked in (Montana, North Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota), please contact Matt Schlapp until he announces a new regional director. Thanks again and I look forward to crossing paths with you again in the future!

Sara Taylor

My contact info at Bush-Cheney 2004 will be:
703-647-2770 (office)

Friends -

Tomorrow will be my last day working with all of you here at the White

REV_00435876

House. It has been an honor working with everyone, especially for and with my dedicated co-workers in the Scheduling Office.

I won't be going far though, soon I will join the State Department Protocol team to serve the President in a new capacity. At this time I don't know my new State department contact information, but until then I can always be reached on my personal cell at

On Monday, James Waters will assume my responsibilities and be your main contact for vetting and research. James can be reached at 202-456-2363 or on his cell phone at PRA 6 James will continue the yellow sheet tradition and will be a great asset to you all as well as the Scheduling office.

Please keep in touch,

Sincerely,

- Andrew

Friends -

Tomorrow will be my last day working with all of you here at the White

REV_00435887

House. It has been an honor working with everyone, especially for and with my dedicated co-workers in the Scheduling Office.

I won't be going far though, soon I will join the State Department Protocol team to serve the President in a new capacity. At this time I don't know my new State department contact information, but until then I can always be reached on my personal cell at PRA 6

On Monday, James Waters will assume my responsibilities and be your main contact for vetting and research. James can be reached at 202-456-2363 or on his cell phone at PRA 6 James will continue the yellow sheet tradition and will be a great asset to you all as well as the Scheduling office.

Please keep in touch,

Sincerely,

- Andrew

Friends -

Tomorrow will be my last day working with all of you here at the White

REV_00435895

House. It has been an honor working with everyone, especially for and with my dedicated co-workers in the Scheduling Office.

I won't be going far though, soon I will join the State Department Protocol team to serve the President in a new capacity. At this time I don't know my new State department contact information, but until then I can always be reached on my personal cell at [REDACTED] PRA 6

On Monday, James Waters will assume my responsibilities and be your main contact for vetting and research. James can be reached at 202-456-2363 or on his cell phone at [REDACTED] PRA 6 James will continue the yellow sheet tradition and will be a great asset to you all as well as the Scheduling office.

Please keep in touch,

Sincerely,

- Andrew

End Original ARMS Header #####

He served as a national security policy advisor for presidents of both parties ...
teaches constitutional law...
and his recent book has received stunning praise.

"One of the most important works on international relations published during the past fifty years."
--Sir Michael Howard

"...masterly work of scholarship that gives us fresh and original ways to look at war and peace."
--Michael Beschloss

He served as a national security policy advisor for presidents of both parties ...
teaches constitutional law...
and his recent book has received stunning praise.

"One of the most important works on international relations published during the past fifty years."
--Sir Michael Howard

"...masterly work of scholarship that gives us fresh and original ways to look at war and peace."
--Michael Beschloss

End Original ARMS Header #####

teaches constitutional law...
and his recent book has received stunning praise.

"One of the most important works on international relations published during the past fifty years."
--Sir Michael Howard

"...masterly work of scholarship that gives us fresh and original ways to look at war and peace."
--Michael Beschloss

He served as a national security policy advisor for presidents of both parties ...
teaches constitutional law...
and his recent book has received stunning praise.

"One of the most important works on international relations published during the past fifty years."
--Sir Michael Howard

"...masterly work of scholarship that gives us fresh and original ways to look at war and peace."
--Michael Beschloss

Parking

Effective immediately, anyone looking to park in any of the White House lots (includes the Ellipse, State Place, and West Exec.), must have a placard with them- No Exceptions. This has been ordered by the White House Management Office and not the Secret Service, so there is nothing that the guards posted at the gates can do if you forget your placard. Anyone without a parking placard will be turned away.

4th of July

Invitations for the 4th of July fireworks celebration on the South Lawn are set to be distributed over the course of the next several days. EOP staff members are allowed one guest or their immediate family (defined here as a spouse and any children currently living at home- this does not include parents, siblings, etc.). Due to the size of the guest list (invitations will be distributed to OA, OMB, USTR, and all Political Appointees currently working within the Administration), expect the Visitors Office to be strict in their enforcement of the established attendance guidelines. Other details regarding the event will be included on the invitation.

Tomorrow (Wednesday, June 18th) at 3:00 p.m. Professor Philip Bobbitt will be speaking at the White House Lecture Series. Professor Bobbitt is author of a remarkable and widely-praised book, The Shield of Achilles: War, Peace, and the Course of History. For those of you who have not read it, The Shield of Achilles is a classic inquiry into the nature of the State, its origin in war, and its drive for peace and legitimacy. The topic is timeless -- and timely. If you'd like to pull away from day-to-day matters and listen to a man of fairly deep insights, please come join us.

He served as a national security policy advisor for presidents of both parties ...
teaches constitutional law...
and his recent book has received stunning praise.

"One of the most important works on international relations published during the past fifty years."

--Sir Michael Howard

"My Admiration for Philip Bobbitt and for this, his magnum opus, couldn't be greater."

-- David McCullough

"...masterly work of scholarship that gives us fresh and original ways to look at war and peace."

--Michael Beschloss

Interesting news!!!

Bush to Choose Ex-Starr Aide

Kavanaugh to Be Nominee For Appeals Court Post

By Mike Allen

Washington Post Staff Writer

Thursday, June 19, 2003; Page A25

President Bush plans to nominate White House lawyer Brett M. Kavanaugh, an author of independent counsel Kenneth W. Starr's report on President Bill Clinton, for a seat on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, Republican sources said yesterday.

The disclosure came as Bush issued a curt rejection to Democratic senators who had offered to alleviate a fight over a future Supreme Court vacancy by working with him to find a nominee both sides could accept.

Kavanaugh's nomination would suggest Bush is spoiling for a fight with Senate Democrats while the administration's selection of judges is already a raw issue between the parties. The D.C. Circuit court is considered the second most powerful in the land. Kavanaugh, 38, was involved in many of the Clinton administration's legal controversies, and has played a key role in choosing Bush's judicial nominees.

Kavanaugh is undergoing an FBI background check in preparation for his nomination, which will not be announced immediately. He was an appellate expert in Starr's office from 1994 to 1998, and worked on the Monica S. Lewinsky investigation. He also represented Starr in his successful effort to force the release of White House lawyers' notes of conversations with Hillary Rodham Clinton, now

a senator. The notes related to the suicide of deputy White House counsel Vincent Foster. Kavanaugh's contribution to the Starr report was the section that outlined possible legal grounds for impeachment.

Kavanaugh was a partner with Kirkland & Ellis before becoming an associate White House counsel in January 2001. He has undergraduate and law degrees from
Yale, and was a clerk for Justice Anthony M. Kennedy.

The D.C. Circuit court has openings on its 11th and 12th seats. Republicans blocked Clinton from filling at least one of them by arguing that additional judges were not needed.

Bush's rebuff of the overture by Senate Democrats, a departure from his frequent contention that he is eager to work with Congress, is part of the intense positioning by both parties for the possibility that a Supreme Court justice will retire at the end of this term. Senate Minority Leader Thomas A.
Daschle (D-S.D.)
wrote to Bush on Tuesday to recommend that the president convene a meeting of Senate leaders "to begin a bipartisan process of consultation."

White House press secretary Ari Fleischer called the idea "a novel new approach to how the Constitution guides the appointment process," and said Bush plans no such meeting. The Constitution gives the president sole power to nominate justices, and then the Senate decides whether to confirm them.

"The Constitution is clear, the Constitution will be followed," Fleischer said. "We always welcome thoughts, but certainly no one wants to suggest that the Constitution be altered."

Fleischer said White House Counsel Alberto R. Gonzales "is always happy to meet and talk with these individual senators." A twist is that Gonzales, a former justice of the Texas Supreme Court, is one of Bush's most obvious potential nominees.

Gonzales wrote to Daschle yesterday that in case of a vacancy, the Senate
"will have an opportunity to assess the president's nominee and exercise its constitutional responsibility." He has sent similar letters to other Senate Democrats.

The selection of judges, from federal district courts to the Supreme Court, is always a bitterly contested issue for the most ideologically committed wings of both parties. It is even more so now because of the GOP's narrow hold on the Senate, and because of rumors about the possible retirement of Chief Justice
William H.
Rehnquist, 78, or Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, 73 -- or both.

A group called Faith2Action is linking with some of the nation's best-known conservative organizations for Project Rosebud, which plans to deliver thousands of roses to the White House next week in support of an antiabortion nominee for any Supreme Court vacancy.

Sen. Charles E. Schumer (D-N.Y.), a Judiciary Committee member, wrote Bush last week to suggest potential consensus nominees. Schumer suggested five moderate Republicans, including Sen. Arlen Specter (Pa.).

Sen. Patrick J. Leahy (Vt.), ranking Democrat on the Judiciary Committee, had first suggested the bipartisan summit in a separate letter to Bush last week. Leahy said that Democrats were "ready to work with you to help select a nominee or nominees to the Supreme Court behind which all Americans, and all senators, can unite."

Bradford A. Berenson, a former associate White House counsel for Bush, called the letters a political stunt to help Democrats "blame the president for the ugly confirmation fight it appears they already have planned."

Democrats, who contend they are not proposing anything radical, are circulating pages from a book by Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Orrin G. Hatch (R-Utah) in which he takes credit for suggesting to Clinton the nomination of two sitting justices, Ruth Bader Ginsburg and Stephen G. Breyer.

Hatch wrote last year in his memoir, "Square Peg," that he had asked Clinton whether he had considered Breyer or Ginsburg. "President Clinton indicated he had heard Breyer's name but had not thought about Judge Ginsburg," Hatch recounted.

Hatch said Tuesday on C-SPAN that Democrats were trying to preempt a conservative nominee. "Even though President Clinton did consult with me as chairman of the committee, he made the final decisions," Hatch said.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (Mass.) said the best way for Bush to avoid a major fight would be to consult with the Senate and send up nominees "without ideological chips on their shoulders."

"But if this president wants a battle," Kennedy said, "he'll get it."

Brett --

Warm greetings. I sought to reach you only because I wanted to express to you my great pleasure in reading that you are (it seems very highly probable) to be nominated for a seat on the DC Circuit Court. I think that is really wonderful -- for you, for the Court, and for the country. I wish you every success.

And I think about you all the more as I await, with the rest of us, the Supreme Court's decisions in the Michigan admissions cases. On that matter I am guardedly optimistic; a very great deal hangs on the outcome, of course.

If I can be helpful to you in the advancement of the nomination, please let me know.
Stay in touch. Be well. Carl

Why? b/c you know it's not happening? Or b/c you are too busy.

Btw, I saw adam c. yesterday pulling up to morton's valet with his top down in his convertible bmw. It was funny.

LEGISLATIVE REFERRAL MEMORANDUM

TO: Legislative Liaison Officer - See Distribution below

FROM: Richard E. Green (for) Assistant Director for Legislative Reference

OMB CONTACT: James A. Brown

PHONE: (202)395-3473 FAX: (202)395-3109

SUBJECT: TRANSPORTATION Draft Bill on Amtrak System Stabilization, Improvement, and Streamlining through Transition Act

DEADLINE: FYI

In accordance with OMB Circular A-19, OMB requests the views of your agency on the above subject before advising on its relationship to the program of the President. Please advise us if this item will affect direct spending or receipts.

COMMENTS: This circulation contains bill text only and is provided for your information. The bill will be formally circulated for comment when the sectional analysis is available. Since commitments have been made to provide the Administration's Amtrak reauthorization proposal to Congress shortly after it returns, we will be required to rigidly enforce the one week comment period which will be provided for the formal circulation (the deadline will in no case be earlier than July 7th). We therefore suggest that agencies use this advance text to identify and provide a "heads up" to personnel who will need to review the formal bill package when it is circulated. We also ask that the names and telephone numbers of anticipated agency reviewers be provided to OMB so that we can arrange for them to be briefed on their areas of interest regarding the bill.

The purposes of this Act are to--

- (1) preserve the intercity passenger rail service system in the United States, driven by sound economics;
- (2) provide a transition from the existing structure for providing such service to a structure that is more aligned with existing and emerging transportation needs;
- (3) develop a system that provides high quality passenger rail service at a reasonable cost;
- (4) establish a long-term partnership among the states and the Federal government to support intercity passenger rail service; and
- (5) create an effective public-private partnership, after a reasonable transition, to manage the capital assets of the Northeast Corridor.

TITLE I--NATIONAL PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE RESTRUCTURING

SEC. 101. BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF AMTRAK.

Section 24302 of title 49, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 24302. Board of Directors

"(a) MEMBERSHIP.--(1) The Transition Board of Directors of Amtrak shall consist of 11 voting members, including--

"(A) the Secretary of Transportation (ex officio), or the Secretary's delegate, and

"(B) 10 other members appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

"(2) Appointments under paragraph (1)(B) shall be made from among individuals who have technical qualifications, professional standing, or demonstrated expertise in the field of transportation. Of the members appointed under paragraph (1)(B), two or more shall have significant experience in corporate financial management or accounting.

"(3) The President of Amtrak shall serve as an ex officio, nonvoting member of the Board of Directors.

"(b) COMPENSATION.--Each member of the Board of Directors not employed by the Federal Government or Amtrak shall serve without pay, but shall receive travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, in accordance with sections 5702 and 5703 of title 5, United States Code.

"(c) TERM OF OFFICE.--Members serving un-expired terms on the date of enactment of this section may continue to serve until the earlier of the expiration of their terms or the date on which the restructuring mandated under section 24310 of this title is implemented. Members appointed by the President under subsection (a)(1)(B) shall serve for a term that expires on the date the restructuring mandated in section 24310 of this title is implemented. At the expiration of their terms, members of the Board shall be eligible to serve as members of the boards of successor corporations to Amtrak.

"(d) QUORUM.--At any time after the date of enactment of this section, a majority of the Board members who have been lawfully appointed shall constitute a quorum for purposes of conducting Board meetings and making all necessary decisions regarding the operations, structure, and business affairs of Amtrak.

"(e) TRANSITION COMMITTEE.--(1) The Board of Directors shall form an Asset Transition Committee comprised of the Secretary, or the Secretary's delegate, and two other members, or one other member if two other members are not lawfully appointed.

"(2) In addition to other powers and duties assigned by the Board, the Asset Transition Committee has the duty to ensure that the public interest is served in Board decisions and Amtrak management actions that change the use of or status of (1) the contractual right of access of Amtrak to rail lines of other railroads; (2) Amtrak secured debt; (3) Northeast Corridor real property and assets; and (4) rolling stock.

"(3) The Board may not take an action with regard to the assets specified in paragraph (2), or permit an Amtrak management action with regard to those assets, that is not approved by the Asset Transition Committee.

"(f) MODIFICATION OF BOARD AFTER RESTRUCTURING.--(1) Upon the establishment of the Nationwide Passenger Rail Service Provider and the Passenger Rail Infrastructure Manager under section 24310 of this title, the Board of Directors of Amtrak shall consist of-- "(A) the Secretary of Transportation (ex officio), or the Secretary's delegate;

"(B) the Federal Railroad Administrator (ex officio), or the Administrator's delegate; and

"(C) the Federal Transit Administrator (ex officio), or the Administrator's delegate.

"(2) With the exception of the Secretary of Transportation, the members of the Transition Board of Directors shall no longer serve as appointees of the President to the Amtrak Board or Directors, but shall instead become members of the Board of Directors of the entities referred to in Federal law as the 'Passenger Rail Service Provider' or the 'Passenger Rail Infrastructure Manager,' in accordance with the articles and bylaws of those corporations."

SEC. 102. PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE RESTRUCTURING.

(a) IN GENERAL.--Title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after section 24309:

"Sec. 24310. Amtrak restructuring mandate

"(a) IN GENERAL.--Within 6 months after enactment of this section and notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the Board of Directors shall prepare a plan to restructure Amtrak management, personnel, assets, operations, and other activities and relationships to conform to the requirements of this section. The Board shall transmit the completed plan to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House, and the Committees on Appropriations of the House and Senate.

"(b) MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS.--At a minimum, the restructuring plan required under this section shall provide for the following:

"(1) The filing of appropriate Articles of Incorporation under state law for two business corporations that are entirely independent of Amtrak, hereinafter referred to as the 'Passenger Rail Service Provider' and the 'Passenger Rail Infrastructure Manager' or the 'successor corporations.'

"(2) The division of Amtrak into three functionally independent entities that provide the following:

"(A) A corporation that shall provide overall supervision of Amtrak restructuring and subsequent management of residual responsibilities, including succeeding to the legal rights of the National Railroad Passenger Corporation, and including specifically Amtrak's legal right of access, following transfer of rail operations and infrastructure management to the successor corporations established under paragraph (1);

"(B) Passenger rail operating services nationwide, including operation of the Reservations Center and ownership and management of existing rolling stock and its maintenance; and

"(C) Passenger rail infrastructure management.

"(3) The assignment of all Amtrak personnel by name to one of the entities specified in paragraph (2), except that an employee who elects employment with the entity specified by paragraph (2)(A) shall become an employee of the corporation, with such rights and benefits as the corporation shall determine;

"(4) The division of accounting, finance, budget, assets, and personnel to provide for the operation and funding of each entity independently.

"(5) A transition schedule that provides for completion of the restructuring not later than September 30, 2004.

"(c) SUCCESSOR CORPORATIONS.--(1) Consistent with the business corporation law of the state of incorporation of the successor corporations specified by subsection (b)(1) of this section, each of the successor corporations shall be qualified to undertake railroad activities of an operational or infrastructure nature on a contractual basis with Amtrak or any other entity;

"(2) The Passenger Rail Service Provider--

"(i) enjoys the exclusive right until October 1, 2006, to continue to provide the intercity passenger service that is being provided by Amtrak on the date of enactment of this section, but may operate such passenger rail service after September 30, 2004, only under a contract; and

"(ii) shall provide interline reservations services to any other provider of intercity passenger rail services on the same basis and rates as services are provided to the operational entities that provide service within Amtrak on the date of enactment.

"(3) The Passenger Rail Infrastructure Manager--

"(i) enjoys the exclusive right until October 1, 2009, to continue to provide the dispatching, maintenance, and infrastructure services that are being provided by Amtrak on the date of enactment of this section, but may provide these services after September 30, 2004, only under a contract; and

"(ii) shall carry out the multi-year infrastructure plan prepared by Amtrak, to the extent funds are made available.

"(4)(A) The successor corporations have no common carrier obligation to provide passenger rail or rail freight transportation and are not a department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States Government.

"(B) Chapter 105 of this title does not apply to the successor corporations. However, laws and regulations governing safety, employee representation for collective bargaining purposes, the handling of disputes between carriers and employees, employee retirement, annuity, and unemployment systems, and other dealings with employees that apply to a rail carrier providing transportation subject to subchapter I of chapter 105 apply to the successor corporations and to the entity specified by subsection (b)(2)(A) of this section.

"(C) Subsections (c) through (l) of section 24301 of this title shall apply to the successor corporations.

"(5) Subject to further action by the Board of Directors, the President of Amtrak on the date of enactment of this section shall be offered the position of Chief Executive Officer of the Passenger Rail Service Provider.

"(6) The contractual rights of successor corporations to provide services may not be extended beyond the dates set forth in subsections (c)(2) and (c)(3), as applicable, without competitive bid.

"(7) The Passenger Rail Service Provider shall, not later than one year after the enactment of this section, provide recommendations to Congress on the feasibility, advantages, and disadvantages of separation of the Reservations Center into a free-standing entity that can become an element of an intermodal reservations service.

"(8) The functionally independent entity established under subsection (b)(2)(A) shall retain all legal rights pertaining to the name 'Amtrak,' and may, at its option, license or otherwise make the name 'Amtrak' commercially available for intercity passenger rail and related services.

"(d) ROLLING STOCK AND SHOPS.--(1) The Passenger Rail Service Provider shall make available to any replacement operator of a route on which intercity passenger rail service is provided on the date of enactment of this section the legacy equipment Amtrak owns or leases that is associated with the service on the route.

"(2) Such equipment and services shall be made available on such terms as Amtrak determines are fair, reasonable, and in the public interest.

"(3) As part of a liquidation process to accompany the restructuring, Amtrak shall also provide recommendations for further expenditures on maintenance and rehabilitation of existing rolling stock, specifying a recommended annual amount that is agreed to by the Secretary of Transportation.

"(e) FREIGHT AND COMMUTER OPERATIONS.--(1) Amtrak shall ensure that the implementation of the restructuring prescribed in this section gives due consideration to the needs of freight and commuter rail operations that, as of the effective date of this section, operate in the Northeast Corridor on Amtrak right of way.

"(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), commuter services operated by a State or Commonwealth that is not a member of the North East Corridor Compact after September 30, 2005, shall pay the fully allocated costs incurred by the successor corporation or any successor entity for access and use of the Northeast Corridor for such services.

"(3) The right of access by Amtrak to the rail lines of other carriers is, as of the effective date of this section, restricted as follows:

"(A) The terms and conditions for operation of an intercity passenger rail route or frequency that is not in place on the date of enactment of this section shall be subject entirely to negotiation and mutual agreement between the host railroad and Amtrak, or any successor to Amtrak, and shall not operate under the right of access.

"(B) The right of access to any segment of rail line of another rail carrier shall not be available to more than one intercity passenger rail operator, whether Amtrak or a successor to Amtrak, during any period of rail passenger service over than line.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.--(1) The analysis of chapter 243 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after the item relating to section 24309:

"24310. Amtrak restructuring mandate."

(2) Section 24102 (Definitions) of title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after section 24102(5):

"(5a) 'legacy equipment' means the rolling stock required to provide intercity passenger rail service owned or leased by Amtrak on the date of enactment of this chapter."

SEC. 103. NORTHEAST CORRIDOR COMPACT.

(a) CONSENT TO COMPACT.--(1) Congress consents to a State making an agreement, not in conflict with a law of the United States and titled the "Northeast Corridor Compact", with another State or States and the District of Columbia to provide passenger rail service and to conduct related activities in the Northeast Corridor.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), an agreement entered into by one or more states and the District of Columbia under the authority of this section may not take effect for a period, during which both Houses of Congress are in session, of not fewer than 60 days following notification to Congress by the parties to the agreement of an intention to execute the agreement at a date certain.

(b) COMPACT COMMISSION.--(1) There is hereby established a commission to be known as the "North East Corridor Compact Commission (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "Commission"). The Commission shall be composed of five members as follows:

(A) Two members (or their designees), to be selected by the Secretary of Transportation.

(B) Two members (or their designees), to be selected by agreement of the following government representatives:

(i) The governors of Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts.

(ii) The mayor of the District of Columbia.

(C) One member to be selected by the four members selected under paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection

(2) The following applies to the Commission:

(A) Members shall be appointed for the life of the Commission.

(B) A vacancy in the Commission shall be filled in the manner in which the original appointment was made.

(C) Members shall serve without pay but shall receive travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, in accordance with sections 5702 and 5703 of title 5, United States Code.

(D) The Chairman of the Commission shall be elected by the members.

(E) The Commission may appoint and fix the pay of such personnel as it considers appropriate.

(F) Upon request of the Commission, the head of any department or agency of the United States may detail, on a reimbursable basis, any of the personnel of that department or agency to the Commission to assist it in carrying out its duties under this section.

(G) Upon the request of the Commission, the Administrator of General Services shall provide to the Commission, on a reimbursable basis, the administrative support services necessary for the Commission to carry out its responsibilities under this section.

(c) FUNCTIONS.--(1) The Commission shall prepare for the consideration of and adoption by participating States, the District of Columbia, and the Secretary of Transportation an interstate compact, with Federal participation, that provides for the following:

"(A) full responsibility for 99 years to succeed to Amtrak as operator of the Northeast Corridor, subject to the provisions of a lease from the Department of Transportation;

"(B) execution of a lease of the Northeast Corridor, subject to appropriate provisions protecting the lessor's interests, from the Department of Transportation for a period of 99 years;

"(C) responsibility for Corridor maintenance and improvement;

"(D) operation of intercity passenger rail service;

"(E) arrangements for operation of freight railroad operations and commuter operations; and

"(F) assumption of financial responsibility for Northeast Corridor functions.

"(G) Authority to make use of the Corridor for non-rail purposes.

(2) The compact terms shall, at a minimum, conform to the requirements of subsections (e) through (i) of this section.

(d) FINAL COMPACT PROPOSAL.--(1) The Commission shall submit a final compact proposal to member states, the District of Columbia, and the Federal Government not later than September 30, 2004.

(2) The Commission shall terminate on the 180th day following the date of transmittal of the final compact proposal under this subsection. All records and papers of the Commission shall thereupon be delivered by the Administrator of General Services for deposit in the National Archives.

(e) GOVERNANCE AND FUNDING REQUIREMENTS FOR COMPACT.--(1)

The governance provisions of the compact shall provide a mechanism to ensure voting representation for the States, Commonwealths, and District that comprise the Northeast Corridor, and non-voting representation for the Secretary of Transportation as an ex officio member participating in all Compact affairs.

(2) The provisions of the compact shall establish the financial obligations of each compact member and shall provide for its management of rail services in the Corridors.

(f) EMPLOYEE INTEREST REQUIREMENTS FOR COMPACT.--The employee provisions of the compact shall, at a minimum, provide the following with regard to employees in the Northeast Corridor if the Compact chooses to replace the successor corporations for operation and maintenance of the physical plant or operation of passenger trains, or both:

(1) Payment of any labor protection payments owed and not paid by the successor corporations established under 49 U.S.C. 24310(b).

(2) In the case of an employee who is employed by Amtrak on the date of enactment of this section and who accepts employment by a successor corporation, a right of first refusal for a substantially similar position with the replacement operator as the employee occupies when the successor corporation is replaced.

(g) FEDERAL INTEREST REQUIREMENTS FOR COMPACT.--The provisions of the Compact shall hold the United States Government harmless as to the actions of the Compact under the lease of rights to the Northeast Corridor by the United States Government.

(h) COMPACT BORROWING AUTHORITY.--The borrowing authority provisions of the compact may authorize the compact to issue bonds or other debt instruments from time to time in its discretion, for purposes that include paying any part of the cost of rail service improvements, construction, and rehabilitation and the acquisition of real and personal property, including operating equipment, except that debt issued by the compact may be secured only by revenues to the compact and may not be a debt of the member States or of the Federal Government. Such debt shall under no circumstances be backed by the full faith and credit of the United States.

(i) ADOPTION OF COMPACT; TURNOVER.--(1) The members shall adopt a final compact agreement not later than September 30, 2005, and the compact shall thereafter assume responsibility for all Corridor operations from the successor corporations on a date that is not later than 8 months following adoption of the compact, which date shall be known as the "NEC turnover date."

(2) In the event that the members do not adopt the final compact agreement and make it operational under the schedule set forth in this section, the Secretary of Transportation shall assume control of the entity specified by 49 U.S.C. 24310(b)(2)(A) and shall make appropriate legislative recommendations to Congress that address the monetary contributions by Northeast Corridor states and the District of Columbia that would be necessary to provide continued intercity passenger rail service to those states.

(j) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.--There are authorized such sums as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

SEC. 104. ASSISTANCE TO ADDRESS CAPITAL NEEDS.

(a) IN GENERAL.--There are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary of Transportation, for capital expenditures in compliance with capital spending plans developed under section 202 of this Act, including the Secretary's expenses related thereto, the following amounts:

- (1) $ [amount] for fiscal year 2006.
- (2) $ [amount] for fiscal year 2007.
- (3) $ [amount] for fiscal year 2008.
- (4) $ [amount] for fiscal year 2009.

(b) OBLIGATION OPTIONS.--(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the Secretary may obligate the funds authorized by this section through grants to or cooperative agreements with States, the Passenger Rail Service Provider, the North East Corridor Compact or another qualified Compact, or through contracts with private companies.

(2) Funds appropriated under this section shall not be obligated and not be disbursed from the Treasury for the North East Corridor Compact until it has been established and is empowered and qualified to enter into contracts for the expenditure of the funds.

(c) ELIGIBILITY OF EXPENDITURES.--The Federal share of expenditures for capital improvements under this section may be not more than 100 percent and is solely authorized for the purpose of funding deferred maintenance, safety and security projects. Expenditures for capacity expansion are not authorized by this section.

SEC. 105. EMPLOYEE TRANSITION ASSISTANCE; AUTHORIZATION.

(a) PROVISION OF FINANCIAL INCENTIVES.-- To facilitate the restructuring of Amtrak, the Secretary is authorized to develop a program under which the Secretary may, in the Secretary's discretion, provide grants for financial incentives to be provided to employees of Amtrak who voluntarily terminate their employment with Amtrak and relinquish any legal rights to receive termination-related payments under any contractual agreement with Amtrak.

(b) CONDITIONS FOR FINANCIAL INCENTIVES.--As a condition for receiving financial assistance grants under this section, Amtrak must certify that--

(1) the financial assistance results in a net reduction in the total number of employees of Amtrak equal to the number receiving financial incentives,

(2) the financial assistance results in a net reduction in the total employment expense of Amtrak equivalent to the total employment expenses associated with the employees receiving financial incentives; and

(3) Amtrak will not increase the total number of employees eligible for termination-related payments without the express written consent of the Secretary.

(c) AMOUNT OF FINANCIAL INCENTIVES.--The financial incentives authorized under this section may be no greater than $50,000.00 per employee.

(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.--There are hereby authorized such sums as may be necessary for the Secretary to make grants to Amtrak or a successor entity to fund termination-related payments to Amtrak employees under existing contractual agreements until four years from the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 106. LIMIT ON OPERATING ASSISTANCE FOR LONG-DISTANCE ROUTES.

(a) IN GENERAL.--Title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after section 24315:

"Sec. 24316. Limit on operating assistance for long-distance routes

"(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.--(1) After September 30, 2004, the Secretary of Transportation may make grants only under the authority of this section to reimburse operators of long-distance routes, as defined in section 24102, and corridor feeder routes for the operating expenses incurred in operating those routes to provide intercity passenger rail transportation.

"(2) The Secretary shall require that a grant under this section be subject to the terms, conditions, requirements, and provisions the Secretary decides are necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this section, including the definition of eligible expenses and the documentation of eligible operating losses on a quarterly basis.

“(b) FEDERAL SHARE OF OPERATING EXPENSES.--(1) No funds appropriated under this Part shall be used to fund operating expenses of a long-distance route after September 30, 2004, except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subsection.

“(2) Funds appropriated under this section may be used to reimburse the operator of a long-distance route or a corridor feeder route for operating expenses on that route provided that amounts reimbursed do not exceed the operating losses on the route and do not constitute a reimbursement per-passenger mile greater than--

“(A) $0.40 for the year ending September 30, 2005;

“(B) $0.30 for the year ending September 30, 2006;

“(C) $0.20 for the year ending September 30, 2007;

“(D) $0.10 for the year ending September 30, 2008; and “(E) $0.00 for each year thereafter.

“(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.--There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section, including the Secretary's expenses related thereto.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.--(1) The analysis of chapter 243 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after the item relating to section 24315:

"24316. Limit on operating assistance for long-distance routes."

(2) Section 24102 (Definitions) of title 49, United States Code, is amended--

(A) by inserting the following after section 24102(4):

“(4a) ‘corridor feeder route’ means a portion of a long distance train or route that provides services between regional corridors by connecting to endpoints of the corridors.”; and

(B) by inserting the following after section 24102(5a), as added by this Act:

“(5b) ‘long distance train’ or ‘long distance route’ means one of or a portion of the following trains or routes operated by Amtrak on the date of enactment of this section: the Silver Star, the Three Rivers, the Cardinal, the Silver Meteor, the Empire Builder, the Capitol Limited, the California Zephyr, the Southwest Chief, the City of New Orleans, the Texas Eagle, the Sunset Limited, the Coast Starlight, the Lake Shore Limited, the Palmetto, the Crescent, the Pennsylvanian, and the Auto Train.”.

SEC. 107. REPEAL OF OBSOLETE AND EXECUTED PROVISIONS OF LAW; OTHER.

(a) IN GENERAL.--Title 49, United States Code, is amended by repeal of the following sections:

- (1) Section 24701 (Operation of basic system).
- (2) Section 24706 (Discontinuance).
- (3) Section 24901 (Definitions).
- (4) Section 24902 (Goals and Requirements).
- (5) Section 24904 (General Authority).
- (6) Section 24906 (Eliminating highway at-grade crossings).
- (7) Section 24909 (Authorization of appropriations).

(b) REVISIONS TO SECTION 24305.-- (1) Section 24305 (a) is amended by striking paragraph (2) and renumbering paragraph (3) as paragraph (2).

(2) Section 24305(b) is amended by striking paragraph (4) and renumbering paragraph (5) as paragraph (4) and paragraph (6) as paragraph (5).

(3) Subsection 24305(f)(2) is amended by inserting before the word "Amtrak", the following "With regard to items acquired with funds provided by the Federal Government,"

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.--The analysis of chapters 243, 247, and 249 are amended by deleting, as appropriate, items relating to the following sections: 24307, 24701, 24706, 24901, 24902, 24904, 24906, 24908, and 24909.

TITLE II--AMTRAK FINANCIAL REFORMS

SEC. 201. LIMITATIONS ON AVAILABILITY OF GRANTS TO AMTRAK

(a) IN GENERAL.--Title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after section 24313:

"Sec. 24314. Transitional limitations on availability of grants

"(a) REQUIREMENTS PRIOR TO RESTRUCTURING.--A grant made to Amtrak under the authority of Part C of Subtitle V of this title between October 1, 2003, and the establishment and commencement of operations by the successor corporations under section 24310 of this title may only be made subject to the following limitations:

- "(1) The Secretary of Transportation shall not approve funding to cover operating losses on a long-distance train of Amtrak without first receiving and reviewing a grant request for each specific train route.

"(2) Each such grant request shall be accompanied by a detailed financial analysis and revenue projection justifying the Federal support to the Secretary's satisfaction.

"(3) The Secretary of Transportation and the Board of Directors of Amtrak shall ensure that, of the amount made available by appropriations for capital and operating assistance to Amtrak in a fiscal year, sufficient sums are reserved to satisfy the contractual obligations of Amtrak to provide commuter and intrastate passenger rail service.

"(4) Not later than December 31 prior to each fiscal year in which grants are made to Amtrak, Amtrak shall transmit to the Secretary of Transportation, the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations a business plan for operating and capital improvements to be funded in the fiscal year under section 24104(a) of title 49, United States Code.

"(5) The business plan shall include a description of the work to be funded, along with cost estimates and an estimated timetable for completion of the projects covered by the business plan.

"(6) Each month of each fiscal year in which grants are made to Amtrak, Amtrak shall submit to the Secretary of Transportation, the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations a supplemental report regarding the business plan, which shall describe the work completed to date, any changes to the business plan, and the reasons for such changes.

"(7) A grant may not be used for operating expenses or capital projects that is not approved by the Secretary of Transportation or an element of Amtrak's current fiscal year business plan, or that is obligated or expended unless Amtrak agrees, as part of the grant agreement, to abide by the following requirements:

"(A) Amtrak management will maintain financial controls and accounting transparency to the satisfaction of the Secretary, including developing or enhancing any existing capacity separately to report (a) all revenue and expenses associated with rail operations by route; and (b) budgeted and actual expenditures for all capital investments.

"(B) Amtrak management will provide to the Board of Directors, the Department of Transportation and Congress its Monthly Performance Report. Amtrak shall also make available to the Department of Transportation the same details and reports on its financial performance that it makes available to Amtrak management, at the same time that it provides those reports and details to Amtrak management.

"(C) Amtrak funds will be spent only on existing plants and services. With the exception of expenditures for which it obtains written approval from the Department of Transportation, Amtrak will suspend use of any of its funds for actual expansion or planning for expansion of rail service, including high speed rail service.

"(D) Amtrak has negotiated with its employees substantial operating cost reductions needed to make its operations competitive with private-sector service providers.

"(E) Amtrak provides to the Department of Transportation its core operating data.

"(F) By August 31 of each fiscal year, Amtrak management will formulate and present for Board of Directors' consideration and timely decision a prioritized list of expense reduction options for implementation beginning in the next fiscal year. The expense reduction options will identify total potential from that year's currently forecasted operating expenses of at least $100 million on an annualized basis. The amount of Amtrak's grant request must incorporate the $100 million in expense reductions.

"(b) REQUIREMENTS ON AMTRAK SUCCESSOR CORPORATIONS.--Any grant made directly to successor corporations to Amtrak under the authority of Part C of Subtitle V of this title may only be made subject to the following limitations:

"(1) The Secretary of Transportation shall not approve funding to cover operating losses on a long-distance train without first receiving and reviewing a grant request for each specific train route.

"(2) Each such grant request shall be accompanied by a detailed financial analysis and revenue projection justifying the Federal support to the Secretary's satisfaction.

"(3) The Secretary of Transportation shall ensure that, of the amount made available by appropriations for capital and operating assistance in a fiscal year, sufficient sums are reserved to satisfy the contractual obligations to provide commuter and intrastate passenger rail service.

"(4) Not later than December 31 prior to each fiscal year in which grants are made, the successor corporations shall each transmit to the Secretary of Transportation a business plan for operating and capital improvements to be funded in the fiscal year.

"(5) The business plan shall include a description of the work to be funded, along with cost estimates and an estimated timetable for completion of the projects covered by the business plan.

"(6) Each month of each fiscal year in which grants are made, the successor corporations shall each submit to the Secretary of Transportation a supplemental report regarding the business plan, which shall describe the work completed to date, any changes to the business plan, and the reasons for such changes.

"(7) A grant may not be used for operating expenses or capital projects that is not approved by the Secretary of Transportation or an element of the current fiscal year business plan, or that is obligated or expended unless the appropriate successor corporation agrees, as part of the grant agreement, to abide by the following requirements:

"(A) Management will maintain financial controls and accounting transparency to the satisfaction of the Secretary, including developing or enhancing any existing capacity separately to report (a) all revenue and expenses associated with rail operations by route; and (b) budgeted and actual expenditures for all capital investments.

"(B) Management of each successor corporation shall make available to the Department of Transportation the same details and reports on its financial performance that it makes available internally, at the same time that it provides those reports and details internally.

"(C) Funds will be spent only on existing plants and services."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.--(1) The analysis of chapter 243 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after the item relating to section 24313:

"24314. Transitional limitations on availability of grants."

SEC. 202. SPENDING PLANS FOR CAPITAL BACKLOG REDUCTION.

(a) IN GENERAL.--Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, and as a condition of grants to Amtrak between that date and the implementation of the restructuring required under 49 U.S.C. 24310, Amtrak shall prepare a capital spending plan that addresses capital needs, consistent with the funding levels authorized to be provided for fiscal year 2004 and each fiscal year thereafter through fiscal year 2006, for--

- (1) Northeast Corridor capital assets; and
- (2) capital assets on long-distance routes other than on the Northeast Corridor.

(b) APPROVAL BY THE SECRETARY AND THE COMPACT.--(1) Amtrak shall submit the capital spending plan prepared under this section to the Secretary of Transportation for review and approval. The plan shall be implemented only after approval by the Secretary, and with any modifications specified by the Secretary.

(2) The Secretary of Transportation shall require that the plan be updated at least annually.

(3) On and after creation of North East Corridor Compact, the Secretary shall make grants to the Compact for Northeast Corridor capital investments only in accordance with a capital spending plan prepared by the Compact and approved by both the Compact and the Secretary. The same requirements shall apply to grants made to States and other Compacts under this section.

SEC. 203. REDEMPTION OF COMMON STOCK.

(a) VALUATION.--The Secretary of Transportation shall arrange, at Amtrak's expense, for a valuation of all assets and liabilities of Amtrak to be performed by the Comptroller General, or by a contractor selected by the Comptroller General. Such valuation shall be conducted in accordance with criteria and requirements to be determined by the Secretary, in the Secretary's discretion, and shall be completed not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act.

(b) REDEMPTION.--Prior to the transfer of assets to the Secretary directed by section 204 of this Act, and not later than 9 months after the date of enactment of this Act, Amtrak shall redeem all common stock in Amtrak issued prior to the date of enactment of this Act at the book value of such stock, based on the valuation performed under subsection (a).

(c) ACQUISITION THROUGH EMINENT DOMAIN.--In the event that Amtrak and the owners of the common stock in Amtrak have not completed the redemption of such stock by the date that is 9 months after the date of enactment of this Act, Amtrak shall exercise the eminent domain provisions contained in 49 U.S.C. 24311, as amended by this Act, to acquire that stock. The valuation performed under subsection (a) shall be conclusive as to the issue of just compensation.

(d) AMENDMENT OF 49 U.S.C. 24311.--Section 24311 of title 49, United States Code, is amended--

(1) by striking "or" at the end of subsection (a)(1)(A);

(2) by striking the period at the end of subsection (a)(1)(B) and substituting "; or"; and

(3) by inserting the following after subsection (a)(1)(B):

"(C) necessary to redeem Amtrak's common stock from any holder thereof, including a rail carrier."

(e) CONVERSION OF PREFERRED STOCK TO COMMON.--(1) Subsequent to the redemption of the common stock in Amtrak issued prior to the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Transportation shall convert the one share of the preferred stock of Amtrak retained under section 204 of this Act for ten shares of common stock in Amtrak.

(2) Amtrak shall not issue any other common stock without the express written consent of the Secretary.

SEC. 204. RETIREMENT OF AMTRAK PREFERRED STOCK; TRANSFER OF ASSETS.

(a) TRANSFER.-- Not later than 30 days after the redemption or acquisition specified under section 203 of this Act, Amtrak shall, in return for the consideration specified in subsection (c), transfer to the Secretary of Transportation title to the following assets:

(1) The portions of the Northeast Corridor currently owned by Amtrak as well as any improvements made to these assets. The assets transferred to the Secretary shall include the rail right-of-way, stations, track, signal equipment, electric traction facilities, bridges, tunnels and all other improvements owned by Amtrak between Boston, Massachusetts and Washington, District of Columbia (including the route through Springfield, Massachusetts and the routes to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and Albany, New York from the Northeast Corridor mainline).

(2) Chicago Union Station and rail-related assets in the Chicago metropolitan area.

(3) All other track and right-of-way, stations, repair facilities and other real property owned by Amtrak.

(b) EXISTING ENCUMBRANCES.--With regard to any assets described in subsection (a) that Amtrak has provided as security or collateral for a debt entered into prior to the date of enactment of this Act, Amtrak shall transfer its underlying legal interest in such asset to the Secretary, and Amtrak shall remain liable for the debt secured by the asset.

(c) CONSIDERATION.--In consideration for the assets transferred to the United States under subsection (b) above, the Secretary shall--

(1) deliver to Amtrak all but one share of the preferred stock of the Corporation held by the Secretary and forgive Amtrak's legal obligation to pay any dividends, including accrued but unpaid dividends as of the date of transfer, evidenced by the preferred stock certificates; and

(2) Release Amtrak from all mortgages and liens held by the Secretary.

(d) AGREEMENT.--(1) Prior to accepting title to the assets transferred under this section, the Secretary shall enter into an agreement with Amtrak under which Amtrak will exercise on behalf of the Secretary care, custody and control of the assets to be transferred.

(2) The agreement shall identify in detail the specific functions of Amtrak employees and equipment, and the specific numbers and locations of the employees and equipment associated with each function, that would be needed for continuation of commuter and freight rail service in the event that Amtrak were to cease operation, and identify those actions that would be required to ensure that such functions can be continued on an interim basis to avoid any interruption in commuter or freight rail service on the Northeast Corridor.

(e) FURTHER TRANSFERS.— (1) The Secretary may, for appropriate consideration, transfer title to all or part of Chicago Union Station and rail-related assets in the Chicago metropolitan area acquired under this section to a regional public transportation agency that has significant operations in Chicago Union Station on the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) The Secretary may, for appropriate consideration, transfer to the underlying states title to real estate properties owned by Amtrak between Boston, Massachusetts and Washington, District of Columbia that constitute the route through Springfield, Massachusetts and the routes to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and Albany, New York from the Northeast Corridor mainline.

(3) The Secretary may, for appropriate consideration, transfer title to all or part of the assets acquired under subsection (a)(3) to a State, a public agency, a railroad, or other entity deemed appropriate by the Secretary.

(4) All financial consideration determined by the Secretary to be appropriate consideration for the transfer of the assets described in paragraphs (1)--(3) shall be paid to Amtrak and used by Amtrak exclusively to reduce its long-term debt.

SEC. 205. REAL ESTATE AND ASSET SALES; OTHER.

(a) IN GENERAL.--Following the implementation of the restructuring mandated under 49 U.S.C. 24310, the Amtrak Board of Directors shall undertake and complete not later than September 30, 2006, the disposition of all stations, track, and other facilities outside the Northeast Corridor mainline, including property conveyed to the Secretary of Transportation under section 204 of this Act.

(b) PROCEEDS OF LIQUIDATION.--Notwithstanding section 3302 of title 31, United States Code, any proceeds from the liquidation of assets under this section shall--

(1) be credited as an offsetting collection to the account that finances grants for debt and interest payments under section 206 of this Act to the Passenger Rail Service Provider specified under 49 U.S.C. 24310; and

(2) remain available until expended.

SEC. 206. MANAGEMENT AND TRANSFER OF SECURED DEBT.

(a) NEW DEBT PROHIBITION.--Except as approved by the Secretary of Transportation to re-finance existing secured debt, Amtrak shall not enter into any obligation secured by assets of Amtrak after the date of enactment of this Act. This section does not prohibit unsecured lines of credit used by Amtrak or any subsidiary for working capital purposes.

(b) SECURED DEBT TRANSFER.--(1) Upon establishment of the Passenger Rail Service Provider specified under 49 U.S.C. 24310 and the transfer of ownership of the existing rolling stock, all debt secured by the rolling stock shall be transferred to and become a liability solely of, the Passenger Rail Service Provider.

(2) Upon establishment of the North East Corridor Compact under section 103 of this Act, the secured debt associated with fixed assets in the Northeast Corridor shall be transferred to and become a liability solely of, the North East Corridor Compact.

(c) DEBT RE-FINANCING.--Subject to any pre-payment restrictions, the Passenger Rail Service Provider may enter into an agreement with the Secretary and Secretary of the Treasury that results in the re-financing of Amtrak secured debt through Treasury borrowing and the subsequent appropriation of interest and principal payments under this section as a separately identified component of the budget of the Department of Transportation for the purpose of retiring the notes.

(d) AUTHORIZATION.--There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to the Secretary for grants to the Passenger Rail Service Provider and to the North East Corridor Compact to pay principal and interest payments on its secured debt for fiscal years 2005 through 2009.

SEC. 207. TRANSITION OPERATING ASSISTANCE.

(a) ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES OF COMPACTS.-- There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to the Secretary for grants for the administrative expenses of interstate compacts in fiscal years 2004 through 2006.

(b) PRSP OPERATING ASSISTANCE.-- There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to the Secretary for grants to the Passenger Rail Service Provider for operating expenses of all services except long-distance trains and routes in fiscal year 2005.

(c) AMTRAK FY04 OPERATING ASSISTANCE.-- There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to the Secretary for grants to the Amtrak for operating expenses in fiscal year 2004.

(d) GRANTS MADE AFTER SEPTEMBER 30, 2005.--After September 30, 2005, the Secretary may only enter into a grant agreement under this Act or Part C of Title V of title 49, United States Code, with a State, regional Compact, or other public entity.

TITLE III-- GRANTS AND OTHER ASSISTANCE FOR INTERCITY PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE

SEC. 301 CAPITAL ASSISTANCE FOR INTERCITY PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE.

(a) Part C of Subtitle V of title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after chapter 243:

"CHAPTER 244--INTERCITY PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE CORRIDOR CAPITAL ASSISTANCE

"Sec.

"24401. Definitions; effective date.

"24402. Capital investment grants to support intercity passenger rail service.

"24403. Project management oversight

"24404. Use of capital grants to finance first-dollar liability of grant project.

"24405. Authorization of appropriations.

"Sec. 24401. Definitions; effective date.

"(a) DEFINITIONS.--In this chapter--

"(1) 'applicant' means a State, an Interstate Compact (including the North East Corridor Compact as specified in section 103 of the Amtrak System Stabilization, Improvement, and Streamlining through Transition Act), or a public agency established by one or more States and having responsibility for providing intercity passenger rail service.

"(2) 'capital project' means a project within a corridor plan or program for--

"(A) acquiring, constructing, supervising or inspecting equipment or a facility for use in intercity passenger rail service, expenses incidental to the acquisition or construction (including designing, engineering, location surveying, mapping, environmental studies, and acquiring rights-of-way), payments for the capital portions of rail trackage rights agreements, passenger rail-related intelligent transportation systems, highway-rail grade crossing improvements on routes used for intercity passenger rail service, relocation assistance, acquiring replacement housing sites, and acquiring, constructing, relocating, and rehabilitating replacement housing;

"(B) rehabilitating, remanufacturing or overhauling rail rolling stock and facilities used primarily in intercity passenger rail service; and

"(C) the first-dollar liability costs for insurance related to the provision of intercity passenger rail service.

"(3) 'intercity passenger rail service' means transportation services with the primary purpose of passenger transportation between towns, cities and metropolitan areas by rail, including high-speed rail.

"(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.--This chapter is effective October 1, 2004.

"Sec. 24402. Capital investment grants to support intercity passenger rail service

"(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.--(1) The Secretary of Transportation may make grants under this section to an applicant to assist in financing the capital costs of facilities and equipment necessary to provide intercity passenger rail transportation.

"(2) The Secretary shall require that a grant under this section be subject to the terms, conditions, requirements, and provisions the Secretary decides are necessary or appropriate for the purposes of this section, including requirements for the disposition of net increases in value of real property resulting from the project assisted under this section.

"(3) A grant under this section may not be made for a project or program of projects that qualifies for financial assistance under chapter 53 of this title.

"(b) PROJECT AS PART OF APPROVED PROGRAM.--(1) The Secretary may not approve a grant for a project under this section unless the Secretary finds that the project is part of an approved corridor plan and program developed under section 5303 of this title and that the applicant or recipient has or will have the legal, financial, and technical capacity to carry out the project (including safety and security aspects of the project), satisfactory continuing control over the use of the equipment or facilities, and the capability and willingness to maintain the equipment or facilities.

"(2) An applicant shall provide sufficient information upon which the Secretary can make the findings required by this subsection.

"(3) If an applicant has not selected the proposed operator of its service competitively, the applicant shall provide written justification to the Secretary showing why the proposed operator is the best, taking into account price and other factors, and that use of the proposed operator will not increase the capital cost of the project.

"(4) An applicant shall demonstrate that it has agreed with the railroad over which the intercity passenger rail service will operate concerning the applicant's operating and capital plans.

"(c) LETTERS OF INTENT, FULL FUNDING GRANT AGREEMENTS, AND

EARLY SYSTEMS WORK AGREEMENTS.--(1)(A) The Secretary may issue a letter of intent to an applicant announcing an intention to obligate, for a major capital project under this section, an amount from future available budget authority specified in law that is not more than the amount stipulated as the financial participation of the Secretary in the project.

"(B) At least 30 days before issuing a letter under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph or entering into a full funding grant agreement, the Secretary shall notify in writing the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations of the proposed letter or agreement. The Secretary shall include with the notification a copy of the proposed letter or agreement as well as the evaluations and ratings for the project.

"(C) The issuance of a letter is deemed not to be an obligation under sections 1108(c) and (d), 1501, and 1502(a) of title 31, U.S.C., or an administrative commitment.

"(D) An obligation or administrative commitment may be made only when amounts are appropriated.

"(2)(A) The Secretary may make a full funding grant agreement with an applicant. The agreement shall--

"(i) establish the terms of participation by the United States Government in a project under this section;

"(ii) establish the maximum amount of Government financial assistance for the project;

"(iii) cover the period of time for completing the project, including a period extending beyond the period of an authorization; and

"(iv) make timely and efficient management of the project easier according to the law of the United States.

"(B) An agreement under this paragraph obligates an amount of available budget authority specified in law and may include a commitment, contingent on amounts to be specified in law in advance for commitments under this paragraph, to obligate an additional amount from future available budget authority specified in law. The agreement shall state that the contingent commitment is not an obligation of the Government and is subject to future action by Congress. Interest and other financing costs of efficiently carrying out a part of the project within a reasonable time are a cost of carrying out the project under a full funding grant agreement, except that eligible costs may not be more than the cost of the most favorable financing terms reasonably available for the project at the time of borrowing. The applicant shall certify, in a way satisfactory to the Secretary, that the applicant has shown reasonable diligence in seeking the most favorable financing terms.

"(3)(A) The Secretary may make an early systems work agreement with an applicant if a record of decision under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) has been issued on the project and the Secretary finds there is reason to believe--

"(i) a full funding grant agreement for the project will be made; and

"(ii) the terms of the work agreement will promote ultimate completion of the project more rapidly and at less cost.

"(B) A work agreement under this paragraph obligates an amount of available budget authority specified in law and shall provide for reimbursement of preliminary costs of carrying out the project, including land acquisition, timely procurement of system elements for which specifications are decided, and other activities the Secretary decides are appropriate to make efficient, long-term project management easier. A work agreement shall cover the period of time the Secretary considers appropriate. The period may extend beyond the period of current authorization. Interest and other financing costs of efficiently carrying out the work agreement within a reasonable time are a cost of carrying out the agreement, except that eligible costs may not be more than the cost of the most favorable financing terms reasonably available for the project at the time of borrowing. The applicant shall certify, in a way satisfactory to the Secretary, that the applicant has shown reasonable diligence in seeking the most favorable financing terms. If an applicant does not carry out the project for reasons within the control of the applicant, the applicant shall repay all Government payments made under the work agreement plus reasonable interest and penalty charges the Secretary establishes in the agreement.

"(4) The total estimated amount of future obligations of the Government and contingent commitments to incur obligations covered by all outstanding letters of intent, full funding grant agreements, and early systems work agreements may be not more than the amount authorized under section 24405 of this title, less an amount the Secretary reasonably estimates is necessary for grants under this section not covered by a letter. The total amount covered by new letters and contingent commitments included in full funding grant agreements and early systems work agreements may be not more than a limitation specified in law.

"(d) FEDERAL SHARE OF NET PROJECT COST.--(1)(A) Based on engineering studies, studies of economic feasibility, and information on the expected use of equipment or facilities, the Secretary shall estimate the net project cost.

"(B) A grant for the project shall not exceed the specified percentage of the project net capital cost established for the year the grant is approved, as follows:

"(i) 100 percent in the case of approval for fiscal year 2005.

"(ii) 90 percent in the case of approval for fiscal year 2006.

"(iii) 80 percent in the case of approval for fiscal year 2007.

"(iv) 65 percent in the case of approval for fiscal year 2008.

"(v) 50 percent in the case of approval for fiscal year 2009 and thereafter.

"(C) The Secretary shall give priority in allocating future obligations and contingent commitments to incur obligations to grant requests seeking a lower federal share of the project net capital cost.

"(2) Up to an additional 30 percent of project net capital cost may be funded from amounts appropriated to or made available to a department or agency of the Federal Government that are eligible to be expended for transportation.

"(e) UNDERTAKING PROJECTS IN ADVANCE.--(1) The Secretary may pay the Federal share of the net capital project cost to an applicant that carries out any part of a project described in this section according to all applicable procedures and requirements if--

"(A) the applicant applies for the payment;

"(B) the Secretary approves the payment; and

"(C) before carrying out the part of the project, the Secretary approves the plans and specifications for the part in the same way as other projects under this section.

"(2) The cost of carrying out part of a project includes the amount of interest earned and payable on bonds issued by the applicant to the extent proceeds of the bonds are expended in carrying out the part. However, the amount of interest under this paragraph may not be more than the most favorable interest terms reasonably available for the project at the time of borrowing. The applicant shall certify, in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary, that the applicant has shown reasonable diligence in seeking the most favorable financial terms.

"(3) The Secretary shall consider changes in capital project cost indices when determining the estimated cost under paragraph (2) of this subsection."

"Sec. 24403. Project management oversight

"(a) PROJECT MANAGEMENT PLAN REQUIREMENTS.--To receive Federal financial assistance for a major capital project under this chapter, an applicant must prepare and carry out a project management plan approved by the Secretary of Transportation. The plan shall provide for--

"(1) adequate recipient staff organization with well-defined reporting relationships, statements of functional responsibilities, job descriptions, and job qualifications;

"(2) a budget covering the project management organization, appropriate consultants, property acquisition, utility relocation, systems demonstration staff, audits, and miscellaneous payments the recipient may be prepared to justify;

"(3) a construction schedule for the project;

"(4) a document control procedure and recordkeeping system;

"(5) a change order procedure that includes a documented, systematic approach to handling the construction change orders;

"(6) organizational structures, management skills, and staffing levels required throughout the construction phase;

"(7) quality control and quality assurance functions, procedures, and responsibilities for construction, system installation, and integration of system components;

"(8) material testing policies and procedures;

"(9) internal plan implementation and reporting requirements;

"(10) criteria and procedures to be used for testing the operational system or its major components;

"(11) periodic updates of the plan, especially related to project budget and project schedule, financing, and ridership estimates;

"(12) the recipient's commitment to submit a project budget and project schedule to the Secretary each month.

"(b) SECRETARIAL OVERSIGHT.--(1) The Secretary may use no more than 0.5 percent of amounts made available in a fiscal year for capital projects under this chapter to enter into contracts to oversee the construction of such projects.

"(2) The Secretary may use amounts available under paragraph (1) of this subsection to make contracts for safety, procurement, management, and financial compliance reviews and audits of a recipient of amounts under paragraph (1)

"(3) The Federal Government shall pay the entire cost of carrying out a contract under this subsection.

"(c) ACCESS TO SITES AND RECORDS.--Each recipient of assistance under this chapter shall provide the Secretary and a contractor the Secretary chooses under subsection (c) of this section with access to the construction sites and records of the recipient when reasonably necessary.

"(e) REGULATIONS.-- The Secretary shall prescribe regulations necessary to carry out this section. The regulations shall include--

"(1) a definition of "major capital project" for this section; and

"(2) a requirement that oversight begin during the preliminary engineering stage of a project, unless the Secretary finds it more appropriate to begin oversight during another stage of a project, to maximize the transportation benefits and cost savings associated with project management oversight;

"(3) a deadline by which all grant applications for a fiscal year must be submitted that is early enough to permit the Secretary to evaluate all timely applications thoroughly before making grants;

"(4) a formula based on population, track miles of railroad, and passenger miles traveled in the prior fiscal year by which one-half of the funds appropriated for capital grants for each fiscal year are to be allocated among the states;

"(5) a requirement that, if a State does not timely apply for its share of formula grant funds under paragraph (4) of this subsection, those funds will be made available to other States under paragraph (6) of this subsection;

"(6) criteria by which the Secretary will allocate one-half of the funds appropriated for capital grants for each fiscal year, including at least projected ridership, passenger rail and intermodal connections, congestion and air quality mitigation, underserved communities, and the effect of the grant on whether existing service will continue.

"Sec. 24404. Use of capital grants to finance first-dollar liability of grant project

Notwithstanding the requirements of section 24402 of this title, the Secretary of Transportation may approve the use of capital assistance under this chapter to fund selfinsured retention of risk for the first tier of liability insurance coverage for rail passenger service associated with the capital assistance grant, but the coverage may not exceed $20 million per occurrence or $20 million in aggregate per year."

"Sec. 24405. Authorization of appropriations

"There are authorized to be appropriated to make capital financial assistance grants under this chapter, including the Secretary's expenses related thereto, the following amounts:

- "(1) $ [amount] in Fiscal Year 2005.
- "(2) $ [amount] in Fiscal Year 2006.
- "(3) $ [amount] in Fiscal Year 2007.
- "(4) $ [amount] in Fiscal Year 2008.
- "(5) $ [amount] in Fiscal Year 2009."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.--(1) The table of chapters for title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after the item relating to chapter 243:

"244. Intercity Passenger Rail Service Capital Assistance .....24401".

(2) The chapter analysis for Subtitle V of title 49, United States Code, is amended by inserting the following after the item relating to chapter 243:

"244. Intercity Passenger Rail Service Capital Assistance .....24401".

SEC. 302 FINAL REGULATIONS ON APPLICATIONS BY STATES FOR DEVELOPMENT GRANTS.

Not later than June 1, 2004, the Administrator of the Federal Railroad Administration shall issue final regulations setting forth procedures for application and minimum requirements for the award of grants on and after October 1, 2004, under chapter 244 of title 49, United States Code.

SEC. 303. AUTHORITY FOR INTERSTATE COMPACTS FOR CORRIDOR DEVELOPMENT.

(a) Congressional Consent.--Congress grants consent to States with an interest in a specific form, route, or corridor of intercity passenger rail service (including high speed rail service) to enter into interstate compacts to implement the service, including--

- (1) retaining an existing service or commencing a new service;
- (2) assembling rights-of-way; and
- (3) performing capital improvements, including -

- (A) the construction and rehabilitation of maintenance facilities;
- (B) the purchase of rolling stock; and
- (C) operational improvements, including communications, signals, and other systems.

(b) Financing.--An interstate compact established by States under subsection (a) may provide that, in order to carry out the compact, the States may--

- (1) accept contributions from a unit of State or local government or a person;
- (2) use any Federal or State funds made available for intercity passenger rail service (except funds made available for Amtrak);
- (3) on such terms and conditions as the States consider advisable--
  - (A) borrow money on a short-term basis and issue notes for the borrowing; and
  - (B) issue bonds; and
- (4) obtain financing by other means permitted under Federal or State law.

Izzy explained that this is a standing meeting that takes place for all upcoming WH events.; If a BC'04 event is on the schedule, the campaign personnel get to participate just for that portion of the discussion.; For today's call, they did discuss Monday's BC'04 events in FL, but they also discussed 4th of July in OH.; That's the background.; I'll let Brett decide re: reimbursement of any cost.; What is the cost associated for having a conference call like this?

The Honorable Alberto R. Gonzales
Counsel to the President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Northwest
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Judge Gonzales:

Thank you for your letter of April 19, 2002, regarding the Committee's March 27, 2002 request to White House Chief of Staff Andrew Card for information about certain communications with or relating to Enron Corporation by the Executive Office of the President (EOP). Let me say at the outset that I appreciate very much your stated desire to be as helpful as you can to our inquiry into Enron's collapse. I think it is very important that as we move forward in this investigation, we do so in a cooperative spirit, showing the American people that its government is united in its effort to expose and solve the problems presented by that corporate debacle.

As you note in your letter, our staff met on April 11, 2002 to discuss the EOP's response to the Committee's request. Your staff raised all of the concerns discussed in your letter, and our staffs discussed them. It was our understanding after that meeting that the next step was to be that your office would propose a reasonable timeframe by which the EOP would provide the Committee with information sought in its March 27 request and, if the EOP intended to withhold any responsive information, that you would so indicate with specificity and provide the reasons why. I am concerned that your letter does neither of those things and instead indicates only that you will provide unspecified information on an unstated timeline. I trust you understand that the Committee's ability to conduct a thorough and timely inquiry depends on a more specific response about the scope and timing of information we can expect to receive from the EOP.

Your letter expresses a number of concerns about the Committee's request. Although it is unclear whether you offer these concerns as a basis for withholding information from the Committee, I will nonetheless respond to them in order to move our dialogue along. To begin with, you assert that the request is "overbroad and not well-defined." As discussed with your staff, we respectfully disagree. The request seeks communications EOP staff had with or about a single company - Enron - relating to eight federal agencies or the National Energy Policy. It does not, as your letter suggests, ask EOP staff to divine whether every person with whom they communicated may have had some unknown connection to Enron. Instead, as my staff already assured your staff, the letter intends to elicit reasonable efforts to identify EOP communications regarding the subjects outlined in the letter with or about any person known to be working for or representing Enron. The request is not much different – and, in fact, is in many ways narrower – than requests the Committee sent to a number of federal agencies, including the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, and Department of Labor. All of those agencies, some of which have staffs larger than the EOP and each of which was asked to provide information going back more than a decade, provided the Committee with responses in a timely manner. I am confident that if you make the same best efforts to locate information that these agencies have made, you will be able to provide the Committee with a response.

Next, you question whether the Committee's request for limited information about the National Energy Policy Development Group (NEPDG) is relevant to its investigation. As the Committee's March 27 letter makes clear, the Committee is not seeking extensive information about the NEPDG's deliberations or activities, or even any information at all about the NEPDG's internal deliberations. Instead, we are seeking only contacts the EOP or NEPDG members and staff had with Enron, a nongovernmental entity that was not part of the NEPDG. As my staff explained to your staff in the April 11 meeting, the Committee's investigation encompasses a broad look at the context of Enron's interaction with the entities that regulated it, so that we can better understand why and how those charged with regulating Enron acted (or did not act) as they did. As you know, the interagency NEPDG was charged with examining, and ultimately produced a report recommending, a vast array of regulatory actions in which Enron was deeply interested and by which Enron stood to be affected. It is very much a part of the Committee's inquiry to examine these interactions.

It is for similar reasons that the Committee is seeking information regarding the selection of individuals for posts in the agencies that regulated Enron's business activities. Again, we want to understand why those regulatory agencies acted or did not act the way they did with respect to Enron. Determining whether Enron played a role – or tried unsuccessfully to play a role – in selecting those who would regulate it would advance the Committee's efforts to understand Enron's interaction with the regulatory agencies, and it may well shed light on why particular agencies took (or did not take) specific actions with respect to Enron.

Finally, you suggest that the Committee's request is at odds with the traditional process of Congressional inquiry. Respectfully, I disagree. I am unaware of either requirement or tradition suggesting that Congress, in order to seek information from the EOP, first try to obtain the information from alternative sources or make a showing of wrongdoing or malfeasance by EOP officials. As you know, the EOP weighs in on many aspects of important governmental policy, and an inquiry into the nature of governmental oversight of the issues raised by Enron cannot ignore the probability that this EOP and prior EOPs played a role in at least some of the government's relevant activity. Our requests were made pursuant to the broad jurisdiction of this Committee to investigate the efficiency and economy of operations of all branches of the government. Whether the government operated in an efficient and effective manner with respect to Enron is an inquiry within our purview, and an inquiry appropriately directed to any relevant office within the Executive Branch, including the EOP.

That is not to suggest that Congress need not show special sensitivity when seeking information from the EOP; I could not agree more that a healthy inter-branch respect is necessary for the government to function properly. The Committee, however, showed its respect for the EOP at the outset, by starting our investigation by giving you the opportunity to cull information for the Committee from pertinent EOP records rather than asking you to provide to the Committee the underlying documents themselves. Just as importantly, we tried to work with your staff, offering them far more time to respond to the Committee's request than has been provided to any other agency. And we will continue to work with you after you complete your search if you seek to reach reasonable accommodations regarding specific pieces of information reflecting areas of particular sensitivity. What we cannot do, however, is accept any suggestion that the EOP is largely immune from Congressional oversight, that broad swaths of activities are per se off limits, or that the EOP may decide the appropriate scope of a Congressional inquiry.

Again, I want to express my deep appreciation for your pledge to cooperate with the Committee's investigation. With nearly a month having passed since the Committee sent its information request, I am now requesting greater details as to the scope of your cooperation. In particular, I would appreciate your informing the Committee by Tuesday, April 30, 2002, of:

- 1) the efforts the EOP has made thus far to identify and collect the information requested in the Committee's March 27, 2002 letter; *
- 2) what additional actions the EOP intends to take to identify and collect such information; *
- 3) when the EOP plans to provide the Committee with its response; and
- 4) whether you intend to assert that a broad claim of privilege over general subject areas excuses the EOP from following the traditional practice of searching for responsive information prior to asserting particularized claims of privilege where applicable. *

I look forward to hearing from you by next Tuesday. Should you have any questions, feel free to call me, or to have your staff contact Cynthia Lesser of my staff at (202) 224-4974.

Sincerely,

Joseph I. Lieberman

Dear Judge Gonzales:

For several weeks, a committee of seven respected attorneys and civic leaders has been screening applicants to fill the vacancy in the U.S. District Court of Western Washington.

I am writing to inform you that the committee has completed its work and has provided me with the names of four finalists. In reviewing their files I'm sure you will find that each of these applicants has solid legal and ethical credentials. The screening process included submission of written materials, an in-person interview, and a preliminary background check that included interviews with opposing counsel and judges.

As you begin the process of selecting a nominee from this list, I look forward to hearing your thoughts. If I can answer any questions you may have about any of the enclosed applicants, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you again for your leadership in ensuring that we have bright, capable federal judges who will reflect the judicial philosophy of President Bush.

Best regards,

COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY

WASHINGTON, DC 20510-6275

March 21, 2001

The Honorable Alberto Gonzales
 The White House
 Washington, DC 20502

Dear Judge Gonzales:

I write to express my disappointment with our meeting last Thursday, March 15, 2001.

Although we met for more than 30 minutes, you failed to mention your decision to reevaluate the ABA's longstanding role in advising Presidents with regard to the competence, integrity and temperament of persons under consideration to be nominated as federal judges. I learned about this not from you, but from Senator Schumer the day after our meeting when he informed me that you had a meeting scheduled with the ABA for Monday. As you know, I joined Senator Schumer in sending a letter to the President on this topic, and sent you a courtesy copy as well.

Although I raised the matter of the judicial nominations that were then pending before the Judiciary Committee, you did not comment. You did not indicate that the President was considering a withdrawal of those January 3 renominations, which he did on Monday, March 19, 2001.

As the Ranking Democrat on the Senate Judiciary Committee, I respectfully suggested that consultation on judicial nomination related matters would be useful. I regret that you chose not to consult with me about either of these developments.

I trust that as you proceed with decisions affecting judicial nominations you will consult with interested Senators, including Democratic Senators. I expect that Senators Levin and Stabenow will want to be consulted early in the process and throughout with respect to Sixth Circuit nominees from Michigan in lieu of Judge Helene White and Kathleen McCree Lewis. I expect that Senators Breaux and Landrieu will want to be consulted early in the process and throughout with respect to Fifth Circuit nominees from Louisiana including that in lieu of H. Alston Johnson. I expect that Senators Inouye and Akaka will want to be consulted early in the process and throughout with respect to Ninth Circuit nominees from Hawaii including that in lieu of James Duffy. I expect that Senators Feinstein and Boxer will want to be consulted early in the process and throughout with respect to Ninth Circuit nominees from California including that in lieu of Barry Goode. I expect that Senator Harkin will want to be consulted early in the process and throughout with respect to Eighth Circuit nominees including that in lieu of Bonnie Campbell. I expect that Senator Edwards will want to be consulted early in the process and throughout with respect to Fourth Circuit nominees including that in lieu of Judge James A. Wynn, Jr.

In addition, many of us are saddened by the President's decision to withdraw the nominations of Enrique Moreno to the Fifth Circuit and Judge Roger Gregory to the Fourth Circuit. As you know, Judge Gregory was appointed during the intersession recess by President Clinton and renominated in early January. He is the first African American to serve as a Judge on the Fourth Circuit. Now that the Bush Administration has determined to withdraw his nomination for a lifetime appointment, his tenure on the Fourth Circuit will end when Congress adjourns this year. In light of Judge Gregory's qualifications, the quality of his work, the significance of his appointment and the strong support of both Senators from Virginia, I had hoped that you would have worked with us to support his nomination and Judge Gregory's Senate confirmation rather than withdraw the nomination and set an end to his service on the Fourth Circuit.

Sincerely,

PATRICK LEAHY

TELEPHONE INTERVIEW OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

Q -- working together on the story.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Okay.

Q Now, Mary tells me you like to get into the lion's den, so I will ask you some nasty questions to start with.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: You guys have never done that before.
(Laughter.)

Q Some critics have suggested that you've labeled the current situation as an energy crisis, in part to reward your many campaign supporters in the energy sector. That's a question with a couple components. Why don't you fire away?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Obviously, that's not the case. We, during the course of the campaign, did mention that we thought it was a problem that there was no national energy policy for several years, and that if you look down the road, the storm cloud on the horizon out there that could potentially adversely affect our long-term economic outlook was potential problems in the energy area.

Now, here we are in April of 2001 and we are talking about rolling blackouts in California and power shortages all up and down the West Coast, up into the Northwest, and rapidly rising prices for various forms of energy. And it is a situation in which we clearly have not kept pace, in terms of production with the growing demand for energy in various forms, especially in the electric area.

I think it is pretty clear, if you are caught in the middle of a traffic jam caused by a power outage in Los Angeles, that it is a serious problem.

Q And what about the politics of it?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: What about the politics of it? The fact of the matter is, these are tough issues. If they were easy issues, the Clinton Administration would have done something about it. They didn't; they basically steered clear of all of this.

But I and the President believe that it is our responsibility to raise these important questions, to have this debate and dialogue, if you will, and engage the country on the question of what kind of energy policies we want long term, to take on, for example, to address such questions as the issue of whether or not we ought to go back and look at nuclear power again.

Q Um-hmm.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Those are not politically easy things to do, but they are a responsible course of action, given the importance of this issue.

Q And your central principles as you entered this issue were what?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: I think if you look at what we are trying to do, we are trying to focus on the long term, take a broad, comprehensive approach that looks at all aspects of the problem and the opportunity here, that focuses not only on the need to meet our growing demand for energy, but also to do it in an environmentally sound fashion, to make certain, as we all recognize it's a very important consideration going forward, that we as well take a look at conservation and alternative sources and renewable, at the same time that we focus on the more traditional sources of power. That we focus on technology. New technology offers tremendous opportunities here to both meet our needs and at the same time protect the environment.

Q Mr. Vice President? There has been some fair amount of talk about the secrecy, if you will, surrounding the process involving your task force. I wonder if you could address that, in terms of what is the difference between the way your task force is operating and the way the one that was chaired by Hillary Clinton in the health care area, the way that was conducted? And I will follow up on that in a second.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: I don't think there is any comparison at all. This basically is a meeting, a series of meetings of a committee made up of the Cabinet and the senior administration officials. As we go -- we're allowed to get together and make policy, that's what we get paid to do. But there are no outside groups in the meetings that we have when we meet as the Energy Task Force. There have been meetings with outsiders by various individual members of the task force and by staff, and there they met with a broad range of folks from the environmental community, from the energy industries and so forth.

But those are not policy meetings. So, I mean, everything we are doing is totally consistent with the way government is supposed to operate. We have meetings of Cabinet committees all the time and senior officials on all kinds of policies that are not open in the sense that we don't have outsiders present and the press isn't there, but this is all preparatory to teeing up decisions that the President can make. And then once a decision has been made and an administration policy developed, then it is announced and it becomes public.

Q Well, thank you --

THE VICE PRESIDENT: There is nothing any different about how we are proceeding here with respect to the Energy Task Force than the way we look at economic policy or prepare the budget or look at national security questions. This is traditionally the way administrations operate. We aren't doing anything different.

Q Right. Just briefly, some people have, despite what you just said, they sort of wonder what's going on in there. What is going on in there?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: What is going on in there? Well, we are having -- we've got a staff that is pulled together. It's headed by a man named Andrew Lundquist who works for me, who is the director of the operation. I've got a small staff assigned to it. And the various Cabinet members and agency heads that are involved all contribute staff as well, too. And they are working, putting together a report.

We have given the President a preliminary, sort of interim report earlier on. We will come to him eventually with a polished report that will be made public that will lay out the case in terms of why we think there is a problem as well as make a series of recommendations. He will have to sit down and decide which ones he wants to accept and adopt as administration policy.

So what we are doing is preparing this report basically for him, with the idea that eventually it will come to fruition as a comprehensive national energy policy. We're covering several different things. We're focusing, obviously, on increasing supply and there we're looking at all the various aspects of where we get energy from and the very sources that we use to generate electricity and how we handle our transportation fuels, et cetera. We are talking about the whole question of the need to modernize our infrastructure.

Part of the problem is not only the question of generating electric power, for example, but it is also our transmission lines, the fact that we badly need to modernize that infrastructure. Some of the problems in California, for example, have to do with the difficulty they have from moving power from northern California to southern California, because of an inadequate power grid.

We get into the whole area of transportation fuels and gasoline, rising prices there. One of our big problems is we haven't built any new refineries in this country for 25 years. Refineries are running flat out at maximum capacity and having to put a lot of complex additives into the product in order to meet various clean air requirements. That combination of things, our desire to have a good, clean environment but also to meet those needs for fuel comes back again to the infrastructure that's available, the capacity of those refineries.

We're talking about energy conservation and about how we can use new technology to get more bang for the buck in terms of the energy we do use and reduce the amount of energy consumption per unit of output. We're talking about independence, energy independence, and avoiding the kinds of threats to our security that will develop if we don't address these kinds of questions long term.

So it's a good, broad-based study being done by Cabinet officials with help from their staffs and involves the Secretary of Energy and the Secretary of the Interior, Secretary of Commerce and Treasury. Josh Bolton had a policy in the White House. Joe Allbaugh is involved, the head of FEMA. A broad range of Administration officials have come together to work on this particular problem.

Q Now, the environmentalists have credited you with taking the time to -- not you specifically, your staff, taking the time to meet with them.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Right.

Q If they have a kind of conceptual concern, it is that the task force itself is weighted with industry veterans. And to what extent are the environmental concerns addressed and voiced inside of your regular meetings?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: I think you've got a broad cross section of opinions there and certainly the debates we have over what we ought to do in various areas don't reflect unanimity of opinion. I mean, we have pretty good arguments over how we ought to proceed and what kind of recommendations we ought to make on various issues.

Also at the table is Christine Todd Whitman, the EPA administrator, who I think is pretty well known for her views and her institutional responsibilities and statutory responsibilities to implement our environmental laws. And the same for Gale Norton, the Secretary of the Interior. We are a diverse group that the President has pulled together in his administration.

MORE

To say we are all industry veterans, I certainly wouldn't accept that characterization. But I also think it's important to have people at the table who do know something about the energy business. After all, that's what we're trying to address.

Q Yesterday, your task force -- some of the task force reps, met with the coal industry, I guess to give them a little tickler about what may be in the report. Are there going to be meetings like that with other groups, including environmentalists?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Well, we are still in the process, obviously, of preparing the report. But as we get closer to the date when we think we've got a product to take to the president and he is ready to make decisions, then we clearly are going to want to have a fairly comprehensive roll-out of the proposal. We will want to talk to any group that wants to hear from us. We will be looking for, in terms of places we can find, to come explain what we are doing and try to build support for the program. I can't believe there is anybody out there we won't talk to.

Q Why was the coal industry chosen first?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: I don't know that they were chosen first. We met with the environmental groups, I know the staff did, back in early April, three or four weeks ago.

Q Um-hmm. But not at this juncture. I mean --

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Well, it's a continuous process. You know, where there is a certain time urgency in terms of trying to get something done in reasonable order here. But I don't think anybody is discriminating for or against anybody in that process of talking with outside groups. We've talked with a lot of them.

Q Right. Mr. Vice President, can I ask you, coal is certainly the most plentiful domestic resource that we have. And, by some accounting measures, it is also one of the cheaper ones.

MORE

How does coal fit into your plan, would you say? And is it wise, considering the environmental problems associated with -- that it could take for clean coal technology to solve the problem, to have a big role for coal, if that is what it is?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Well, coal is important. You start with a proposition that about 52 percent of all of our electric generating capacity in the country today is coal fired. So it is already a very, very important part of our energy situation.

One of the things that is important to keep in mind is that we estimate that some 1,300 to 1,900 new generating facilities will be required over the next 20 years. It depends on various assumptions there. But say the conservative estimate of some 1,300 power plants works out to about 65 power plants per year. Some of those are bound to be coal fired. And coal is important because, as I say, the technology is well developed. It's also affordable. It's one of the lowest cost forms of energy that we've got out there.

We've already invested a lot in terms of Clean Air Act and success in implementing the Clean Air Act and reducing emissions from coal-fired plants. We need to do more. The President has recommended to the Congress that we spend some $2 billion next year on clean coal technology and finding ways to make coal an even cleaner fuel to burn in the future. So I expect it will be important going forward.

A lot of the emphasis is going to be on natural gas. Currently, the expectation is -- in terms of people planning future power plants -- as much as 90 percent of that future generating capacity will be gas fired. What that does, of course though, is that raises questions about where we're going to get the gas. There's a lot of it out there but it needs to be developed. You have to go find it. You have to produce it. You've got to process it, you've got to build pipelines to get it to the power plant. You've got to invest.

For example, we estimate some 38,000 miles of new gas pipelines over the next 20 years, if you're going to have that kind of reliance on natural gas. Gas is attractive partly because it is a relatively clean-burning fuel. So there are environmental reasons for going with gas. But both gas and coal also do emit carbon dioxide when you burn them.

That, in turn, gets us over to looking at this whole question of whether or not we ought to go back and reconsider nuclear plants and new nuclear technologies as a way of addressing some of our future demand for electric power while at the same time reducing the problem of greenhouse emissions and possibly global warming.

Q You've emphasized -- made pretty clear the energy needs we face and the potential for crisis. In your calculus, are you emphasizing energy over environmental concerns? Adam just asked you, for instance, about the environmental costs of coal.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Well, the fact of the matter is, we have to do both. This is a country that there is no question we have to have adequate supplies of energy if we are going to have a fully functioning economy that meets the needs and desires of the American people for an ever-improving standard of living. At the same time, we have a strong national commitment to wanting to make sure that we pass on the environment to our kids and grandkids in better shape than we found it. But there is no reason in the world we can't do both.

An awful lot of the technology that has been developed in recent years, and I think will be developed in the future, is aimed specifically at allowing us to produce the energy we need while, at the same time, improving the environment.

If you go back and look at what has transpired, for example, with respect to the last several years in terms of our energy consumption, we've done a lot to reduce the pollutants coming into the atmosphere as a result of energy production. We've actually significantly increased our overall level of economic production. We've increased our consumption of energy. But at the same time, we have reduced the amount of pollutants released into the atmosphere as a result of things already on the books and new technology.

When we get into areas of meeting these energy needs, I think it's a false choice to say either we're going to have a clean environment or we're going to have adequate supplies of energy. I think there are folks out there who want to try to make that case. But it's increasingly difficult to make because our technology has gotten so good at allowing us to do both.

Q During the campaign, you emphasized how some places like West Virginia were kind of left out of the winners' column in the Clinton Administration. What are the politics of coal in your view? If I can ask you to put your political hat on for a second?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: I think coal is, from a political standpoint, important partly for the consumers because, as I mentioned earlier, it is one of the most affordable sources of energy we've got. Secondly, there is a very large supply out there. We've got huge coal reserves in this country, we know where they are and we know how to develop them relatively cheaply. We've got the infrastructure there in terms of transport and so forth.

At the same time, there are clearly a number of areas where we've got a number of jobs connected with the coal industry, people who are actively involved in that business in mining and transporting and processing the coal, so it does have important considerations. You wouldn't look at it purely in political terms. I think good politics is a sound energy policy and that's what we intend to have.

Q Mr. Vice President, thank you for your time here. One last point.

Obviously, as you outlined when you began your remarks, this is not a softball situation. You've taken on a tough challenge because you feel it needs to be addressed.

Going forward politically, what kind of a reception do you expect Congress --

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Excuse me.

Q We don't know the details, but there are going to be some controversial proposals coming out and there may be what some people would describe as strong medicine. So how do you expect that to play and do you expect that to play through the Congress successfully?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: Well, I think this is frankly the beginning of a debate that's likely to last for a long time. There isn't any one particular piece of legislation you can go past and say, there, we've solved that problem.

What we're trying to do is to put together a set of governmental policies and, in many cases, make certain that policies that are already in place are being implemented in a way that lets us move forward in terms of making sure that we've got the kind of energy supplies we're going to need in the future.

Look at California. California is a good example of how to get in trouble with unwise policies. We ended up there with an unwise regulatory scheme that created significant problems for the power industry. We ended up on the one hand trying to maintain price controls on the consumer.

The ultimate outcome, of course, was that you had a 24 percent increase in demand and virtually no increase in generating capacity over the last several years. So they lost the cushion they had. And now we get into a tough year like this year and all of a sudden they're faced with the possibility of rolling blackouts and power shortages that could have significant adverse economic consequences not only for California but the country.

So we know what happens when we don't do it right. And what we are trying to do is get our act together, so to speak, as a government and be able to move forward in terms of pursuing intelligent policies that give us the energy supplies we need but at the same time pays due regard to our legitimate concern about making sure we take care of the environment. But we can do both.

Q Mr. Vice President, you've been very generous. Thank you very much. Is there anything you wanted to add?

THE VICE PRESIDENT: No, I think, as I say, I think we're off to a good start. It should be an interesting debate and dialogue. I find members of Congress are eager to join at this point and I think we'll have a good package.

Q Thank you so much.

THE VICE PRESIDENT: You bet.

Asheley Estes
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Chris could you check on this and let me know.
Brett

Dear Ms. Estes,

Your name was given to me from my friend Wiley Brooks - Martin. Apparently when he called the White House seeking the name of the Presidents secretary he was referred to you. I apologize for not knowing exactly where you fit in. At any rate that isn't important, what is important is that I have been trying to make an appointment to see the President.

My name is Fred Kurtz. I have written countless letters to two Presidents now. My letters concern the same topic; the release from prison of my dear friend Terri Christine Taylor. The meeting I seek with the President is not for me, although I would be honored to be in attendance. The meeting I request is for Bill Boman and his wife, Norma. They are Miss Taylor's relatives.

Ms. Estes, I'm sure this letter sounds strange to you, I assure you it isn't. Miss Taylor has been in prison for nearly 11 years, I have personally been involved in this for nearly 6 years. Of late Miss Taylor has been featured on the front page of the Wall Street Journal, it was a wonderful article with picture. She then appeared, on tape, from prison on the Montel Williams Show, then Larry King did a live interview with her at the prison followed by another interview at prison with Greta Van Susteren. Ms. Estes, Christine Taylor is just 30 years old. She was given a 20 year sentence for buying legal chemicals. It just happens that these chemicals are part of the formula for methamphetamine.... She merely purchased the chemicals, her boyfriend was the one who dealt and produced drugs. What she did was wrong in the eyes of the law but she is not a criminal. She has paid a severe price for something she did not understand at the time. Murderers serve less prison time than she has already served!

Miss Taylor has applied for executive clemency. Her paperwork was prepared by Diane Polan, an attorney from Hartford, CT. The paperwork went thru proper channels with Roger C. Adams signing off on it. Justice did approve this release (we think) but somehow it never got to then President Clinton. Currently this petition is sitting in limbo at the US Pardon Attorney's office. Ms. Hope McGowen is the attorney assigned to this case.

Ms. Estes a day in prison is not like one of the days you and I live thru. Its a horrible experience filled with harassment, degradation, shaming and brow beating. As a woman it is especially hard, male guards have their own special ways of treating female prisoners, not all of them are professional.

I am asking you to schedule a 5 minute meeting with the President for Mr. Bill Boman at the Presidents convenience. Mr. Boman would only require a few days notice to fly into Washington from Houston, Texas. The reason for the meeting is that the President has the power to grant clemency to anyone at anytime. Terri Christine Taylor has earned the right for consideration of this request. This is all we ask.

Thank you so much for your time and help in this matter.

I am, most respectfully yours.

Fred Kurtz

Bill Pryor
Nominee to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit

---

- Alabama Attorney General Bill Pryor, nominee to the 11th Circuit, has earned a reputation as one of America's most experienced and esteemed state Attorneys General. His nomination has received overwhelming support from across the ideological and political spectrum.
  - General Pryor has been nominated to the Eleventh Circuit, which covers the states of Alabama, Florida, and Georgia.
  - The seat to which General Pryor has been nominated has been designated as a "judicial emergency" by the Judicial Conference of the United States.

BACKGROUND ON GENERAL PRYOR

- General Pryor has had a distinguished career as a public servant, practicing attorney, and law professor.
  - General Pryor was appointed as Attorney General of Alabama on January 2, 1997. After being elected to a full four-year term in 1998, Alabamians overwhelmingly reelected General Pryor as Attorney General in 2002; he garnered 59% of the vote.
  - At the time of his appointment, General Pryor was the youngest Attorney General in the United States. He had previously served as Deputy Attorney General in charge of special civil and constitutional litigation.
  - Before joining the Attorney General's Office, General Pryor practiced law in Birmingham, Alabama at two of the state's finest law firms, specializing in commercial and complex federal litigation. He also taught several years as an adjunct professor at the Cumberland School of Law of Samford University.
  - General Pryor has personally argued one case before the U.S. Supreme Court.
- General Pryor is an outstanding and highly qualified candidate, as evidenced by his professional and academic credentials and training.
  - General Pryor began his legal career as a law clerk for a civil rights legend, the late Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. Judge Wisdom achieved renown for his landmark decisions ordering and implementing desegregation in the wake of the Supreme Court's historic ruling in Brown v. Board of Education and received the American Bar Association Medal, the ABA's highest honor, in 1996.

- General Pryor attended Tulane University School of Law, where he graduated magna cum laude in 1987 and was editor-in-chief of the Tulane Law Review.
- General Pryor has widespread support from across the ideological and political spectrum.
  - Dr. Joe Reed, the chairman of the Alabama Democratic Conference (the state party's African-American caucus), calls General Pryor a "first-class public official" who "will be a credit to the [j]udiciary and will be a guardian for justice."
  - Thurbert Baker, the Democratic Attorney General of Georgia and an African-American, says that General Pryor "has always done what he thought was best for the people of Alabama" and "know[s] that his work on the bench will continue to serve as an example of how the public trust should be upheld."
  - Former Democratic Alabama Governor Don Siegelman, who served in that office for much of General Pryor's tenure as Attorney General, stated, "Bill Pryor is an incredibly talented, intellectually honest attorney general. He calls them like he sees them. He's got a lot of courage, and he will stand up and fight when he believes he's right."

Statements by Select Supporters of Bill Pryor

The Honorable Thurbert E. Baker, Attorney General of Georgia, Atlanta, GA

"I have had the great pleasure of knowing and working with Bill Pryor over the past five years. Through the National Association of Attorneys General, Bill and I have worked together on matters of mutual concern to Georgia and Alabama. . . . During his tenure as Attorney General, Bill has made combating white-collar crime and public corruption one of the centerpieces of his service to the people of Alabama. He joined the effort of Attorneys General around the country in fighting the rising tide of identity theft, pushing through legislation in the Alabama legislature making identity theft a felony in Alabama. . . . He has always done what he thought was best for the people of Alabama. Recognizing a wrong that had gone on far too long, he took the opportunity of his inaugural address to call on an end to the ban on inter-racial marriages in Alabama law. Concerned about at-risk kids in Alabama schools, he formed Mentor Alabama, a program designed to pair volunteer mentors with students who needed a role model and an attentive ear to the problems facing them on a daily basis." (Mar. 31, 2003)

The Honorable Artur Davis, Representative, 7th District of Alabama, Birmingham, AL

"I understand that the President may be considering Attorney General Bill Pryor for a seat on the Eleventh Circuit. I have the utmost respect for my friend Attorney General Pryor and I believe if he is selected, Alabama will be proud of his service." (Jan. 10, 2003)

The Honorable Charlie Crist, Attorney General of Florida, Tallahassee, FL

"General Pryor is well qualified for such a position as he has had a distinguished career as a public servant, practicing attorney, and law professor. . . . General Pryor began his legal career as a law clerk for the late Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, who is renowned for his landmark decision ordering and implementing desegregation. . . . Attorney General Pryor's professional experience gives him the necessary qualification to meet the demands of the bench with honesty and uprightness, often resisting pressure from his own party in the process. He would be a valuable asset to the 11th Circuit, and I am pleased to strongly recommend him for your consideration." (April 15, 2003)

William J. Baxley, Baxley, Dillard, Dauphin, and McKnight, and Former Attorney General of Alabama, Birmingham, AL

"I too am a former Attorney General of our great state. I therefore feel comfortable assessing Bill Pryor's service in that elected office, as well as his fitness to serve the United States as a Circuit Judge. As a Democrat, I am certain I have a more unbiased frame of reference than many. As a lawyer with a diverse practice in Alabama – one which has been aligned with him on some occasions and against him on others – I have a better basis than most for gauging his character, fitness and ability. . . . In this regard, his willingness to be guided by pure interpretations of the law superbly qualifies him for the federal bench. He has never, to my knowledge, bowed to any pressure from constituents or special interest groups. In every difficult decision he has made, his actions were supported by his interpretation of the law, without race, gender, age, political power, wealth, community standing, or any other competing interest affecting judgment. . . . I often disagree, politically, with Bill Pryor. This does not prevent me from making this recommendation because we need fair minded, intelligent, industrious men and women, possessed of impeccable integrity on the Eleventh Circuit. Bill Pryor has these qualities in abundance. . . . There is no better choice for this vacancy.” (Apr. 8, 2003)

The Honorable Sue Bell Cobb, Judge, Ala. Court of Criminal Appeals, Montgomery, AL

“I write, not only as the only statewide Democrat to be elected in 2000, not only as a member of the Court which reviews the greatest portion of General Pryor’s work, but also as a child advocate who has labored shoulder to shoulder with General Pryor in the political arena on behalf of Alabama’s children. . . . Bill Pryor is an outstanding attorney general and is one of the most righteous elected officials in this state. He possesses two of the most important attributes of a judge: unquestionable integrity and a strong internal moral compass. . . . Bill Pryor is exceedingly bright, a lawyer’s lawyer. He is as dedicated to the ‘Rule of Law’ as anyone I know. I have never known another attorney general who loved being the ‘people’s lawyer’ more than Bill Pryor. Though we may disagree on an issue, I am always confident that the position is a product of complete intellectual honesty. He loves the mental challenge presented by a complex case, yet he never fails to remember that each case impacts people’s lives.” (Jan. 21, 2003)

Joe Reed, Chairman, Alabama Democratic Conference (the state party’s African-American caucus), Montgomery, AL

“[Pryor] is a person, in my opinion, who will uphold the law without fear or favor. I believe all races and colors will get a fair shake when their cases come before him. As Attorney General for Alabama during the past six (6) years, he has been fair to all people. . . . For your information, I am a member of the Democratic National Committee and, of course, Mr. Pryor is Republican, but these are only party labels. I am persuaded that in Mr. Pryor’s eyes, Justice has only one label – Justice!” (Jan. 27, 2003)

G. Douglas Jones, Whatley Drake, Former U.S. Attorney, Northern District of Alabama, Birmingham, AL

“I am writing now, as a loyal Democrat, to support the nomination of Alabama Attorney General Bill Pryor to the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals. Bill Pryor became Alabama’s Attorney General less than a year before I was sworn in as U.S. Attorney. In short order we not only formed a strong friendship, but a federal-state working partnership that I believe was second to none. . . . His personal involvement in our joint efforts was critical to his success that was realized, including the success in the [1963 16th Street Baptist] church bombings cases. . . . Despite our differences, . . . there is no question that Bill Pryor is [e]minently qualified for the federal bench. He is a brilliant lawyer whose career has been marked by fundamental fairness and an appreciation for the rule of law. He has a solid reputation for honesty and integrity that greatly contributed to his overwhelming re-election by the people [of] Alabama. I believe you will find that Bill Pryor is held in high regard by people on both sides of the political aisle and by people of all races and gender. He has provided outstanding public service to the people of Alabama and there is no doubt he will serve with even greater distinction as a federal jurist. . . . I have pledged to assist in Bill's nomination and confirmation process in any way I can." (Jan. 31, 2003)

Charles W. Colson, Founder, Prison Fellowship Ministries

"I have great admiration for Bill and support his nomination with enthusiasm. I observed Bill during his years as Attorney General of Alabama and was quite impressed. He has a firm grasp of the law, and is an articulate and forceful advocate. He used his office to speak out for reform in prison sentencing and was an ardent supporter of the Kennedy-Sessions Prison Rape Reduction Act. He also was instrumental in the passage of Alabama's Religious Freedom Restoration Act, which guarantees religious freedom for all, including prisoners. . . . While Bill is a forceful advocate, he also believes in the rule of law. When the debate ceases, Bill defends the law as it is written by the legislature or a higher court. Bill has a brilliant mind and the proper temperament for service on the Court of Appeals." (Apr. 1, 2003)

Pat Nolan, President, Justice Fellowship

"Bill has shown knowledge of the law, brilliance, courage and compassion. In particular, he has forcefully spoken of the need to protect prisoners from rape, and has been effective in rallying support for the Kennedy-Sessions Prison Rape Reduction Act. . . . Bill speaks forcefully and with clarity on the important issues of the day. That is one of the things that make him such an exceptional leader. However, he reveres the rule of law, and has always subordinated his own opinions when the legislative or judicial authorities have ruled on the law." (Apr. 1, 2003)

The Honorable Eric M. Fancher, District Judge, Tenth Judicial Cir. of Ala., Bessemer, AL

"Over the years, I have read various legal opinions and legal positions taken by Bill Pryor. The opinions and positions taken have been consistent. . . . It is my opinion that Bill Pryor possesses the character and integrity to be fair in making judicial decisions. His legal experience speaks for itself. Bill Pryor has demonstrated his ability to not only interpret, but apply laws and legal principles in his role as Attorney General. I do believe he has an excellent appreciation and understanding of the law." (Apr. 9, 2003)

"We [in the firm] are each lifelong Democrats who have substantially contributed to Democratic candidates and support Democratic principles and ideals. While we have some political differences with Attorney General Pryor, we believe that those political differences are far overshadowed by his excellent judicial qualifications and professional attributes. . . . We can confidently assure you and the members of the Judiciary Committee that Attorney General Pryor has always followed the law, whether it was to his liking or not. In other words, we have seen no evidence that Attorney General Pryor would use his position as an appellate jurist to legislate from the bench.” (June 5, 2003)

Jere L. Beasley, Beasley, Allen, Crow, Methvin, Portis & Miles, P.C.

“I have known Bill since he worked for [Senator Sessions] in the Attorney General’s office and I believe that he has all of the necessary qualifications to do an outstanding job on the federal bench. I am writing to support his nomination. . . . The Attorney General and I come from different political parties and have disagreed on a number of issues. However, I have tremendous respect for him and sincerely believe that he has served the state well as Attorney General. I would have done some things differently, but that alone does not keep me from supporting him now. Bill Pryor is extremely bright and is a recognized student of the law. His character is beyond reproach and, in my opinion, he will be fair and judicious if he is nominated and confirmed by the Senate.” (March 25, 2003)

James Hayes, Sheriff, Etowah County, AL

“Although General Pryor and I have different political views, we both have the well being and safety of the people of Alabama in mind in all that we do in our official capacity. I am excited that a person of such integrity is being considered for such an important position, and I support Bill’s nomination without reservation.” (Mar. 27, 2003)

Gregory O. Griffin, Sr., Chief Counsel, Board of Pardons and Paroles, Montgomery, AL

“In having the privilege to observe all facets of Bill’s behavior, I have yet to find fault with any part of his character or humanity. He is as good as they come. Bill Pryor sets a high standard by carrying himself with class, behaving with good taste, respect, and doing all things in moderation. He will serve the judiciary well. He will not have his decisions corrupted by passion, partisanship, or partiality. He is truly endowed with the divine power of wisdom.” (Apr. 18, 2003)

Miriam Shehane, Executive Director, Victims of Crime and Leniency (VOCAL), Montgomery, AL

“I have worked in the victim’s movement for over 20 years and have worked with Attorney General Pryor on numerous victims’ issues the 6 years he has served as Attorney General. He has been most aggressive in victims’ legislation and worked tirelessly to rectify the imbalance and disparity in the judicial process. Attorney General Pryor is known as a man of integrity and one who will follow the law to the letter. Crime Victims only ask to be treated fairly and I am confident that will continue if Mr. Pryor gets this appointment. Mr. Pryor has served Alabama well as Attorney General and will do likewise as Judge of the 11th Circuit.” (Mar. 13, 2003)

Kathryn Coumanis, Executive Director, Penelope House, Mobile, AL

"I mentioned, to my Board at our regular meeting last Thursday, that I would be sending this letter. The entire Board of Directors of Penelope House Family Violence Center here in Mobile, AL, unanimously asked that I include them in support of this nomination. Attorney General Bill Pryor has been a long time supporter and advocate of Penelope House, and has worked tirelessly to protect women and children from the dangers of domestic violence. . . . When Bill Pryor raises his voice in support of our mission, it enables us to reach every member of our community. Attorney General Pryor not only joins us every October in celebration of domestic violence awareness month, but enables us to reach a State wide audience at every opportunity. Three years ago he reached and touched the hearts of thousands of Alabamians when he placed a drawing by one of our shelter children on the cover of his Christmas card. Attorney General is ever vigilant regarding any funding which may become available to our programs and keeps us informed about these sources. He always supports our efforts to obtain grants, and follows and supports legislation which may be of concern to the domestic violence programs throughout our state. Bill Pryor will bring to the Federal Bench the qualities that all Americans cherish. He is loyal to his State and his Country, is a man of princip[le] and integrity, is highly intelligent, and most of all is a man who has immense compassion and respect for his fellow human beings." (Mar. 17, 2003)

Dianne Mooney, Allocations Chair, The Women's Fund of Greater Birmingham, Birmingham, AL

"During his illustrious career General Pryor has demonstrated his compassion for the citizens of Alabama in countless ways. Of special importance to those of us who serve on the Board of Directors of The Women's Fund of Greater Birmingham has been his focus on the plight of victims of domestic violence. You may know that in 2001 General Pryor awarded Nine West Inc. settlement money to The Women's Fund to create and implement a meaningful program to combat domestic violence in Alabama. Those of us on the board went to work to maximize our AG's investment by creating CUT IT OUT Salons Against Domestic Violence that is now operating in its second year in Alabama and will be launched nationwide later this year through a professional business partnership. I sincerely hope that you will confirm General Pryor's nomination. He is more than fair and judicious and treats issues on women and minorities with great care and respect. And from a more personal standpoint, I celebrate his vision and personal courage to trust and empower others to positively impact our community and our state." (Mar. 27, 2003)

Bill Pryor on the Issues Raised by Opponents

ABORTION:

- Some interest groups have claimed that General Pryor's personal pro-life and religious views mean he cannot follow precedent and be a fair and impartial judge. That is wrong and imposes an inappropriate test on a judicial nominee. Indeed, as state Attorney General, General Pryor took steps to ensure that Alabama law comported with Supreme Court precedent.
  - In 1997, the Alabama legislature passed the Alabama Partial-Birth Abortion Ban Act of 1997. The statute's plain language banned such abortions both before and after the fetus was viable, which was not consistent with Supreme Court precedent. See ALA. CODE §§ 26-23-1 to 26-23-6 (1997).
  - Despite pressure from some to back the broader language in the Act, General Pryor ordered state prosecutors to read the Supreme Court's viability requirement into the Act so as to comport with Supreme Court precedent and Constitutional requirements.
  - General Pryor has also made it clear that he will punish those who make terrorist threats to frighten health workers, including those at abortion clinics.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT:

- General Pryor has fought political corruption across the board regardless of political affiliation and has sought to reform Alabama's criminal justice system.
  - General Pryor helped secure the convictions of a Republican former Director of the Alabama Department of Transportation and two lobbyists on bribery charges. The former Director, who was sentenced to 15 months' imprisonment, served in the administration of former Governor Fob James, a Republican who first appointed General Pryor in 1997. He also secured the convictions of six Republicans on charges of felony conspiracy to commit vote buying.
  - General Pryor has worked tirelessly to change Alabama's sentencing laws, which he claims have created an "outdated criminal sentencing system." He helped institute a state Sentencing Commission, because he believes Alabama "must have fairness in sentencing where similar crimes result in similar punishments."
  - General Pryor has also advocated the creation of alternative programs, including drug courts and substance abuse treatment, that emphasize victim restitution and community restoration for first-time and nonviolent offenders.

- General Pryor has created a nationally-recognized mentoring program for at-risk youth, called Mentor Alabama. The Mentor Alabama program has been designated as the official Alabama affiliate by the National Mentoring Partnership, which is a partner of the America's Promise program founded by Secretary of State Colin Powell. General Pryor has himself served as a mentor to a young Montgomery, AL public school student for over three years.

FEDERALISM:

- General Pryor has responsibly protected Alabama taxpayers by defending his state from huge money judgments.
  - The Eleventh Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, under the doctrine of sovereign immunity, bars suits against a state for damages that must be paid from the public fisc absent a sufficient Congressional showing under the Fourteenth Amendment. The Supreme Court's recent cases recognizing the sovereign immunity protection for state budgets began with the case of Seminole Tribe v. Florida, 517 U.S. 44 (1996), in which Democrat Attorney General Bob Butterworth of Florida fought for and won protection for state treasuries against lawsuits.
  - Keying off General Butterworth's victory, General Pryor asserted Seminole Tribe's interpretation of sovereign immunity to protect Alabama's budget from lawsuits. See, e.g., Kimel v. Florida Board of Regents, 528 U.S. 62 (2000).
  - Numerous Democratic Attorneys General have asserted the exact same position as General Pryor, including Eliot Spitzer (N.Y.), William Sorrell (Vt.), and Jim Doyle (Wisc.). See Leiman v. New York, 2000 WL 1364365 (S.D.N.Y. Sep. 21, 2000); Powers v. Office of Child Support, 795 A.2d 1259 (Vt. 2002); EEOC v. Bd. of Regents of the Univ. of Wis. System, 288 F.3d 296 (E.D. Wis. 2002).
  - Bill Baxley, a former Democratic Attorney General of Alabama, states that "as the State's lawyer [General Pryor] defends the State's pocketbook." He adds, "It is Bill's duty now to defend Alabama's budget and to prosecute criminals. If he didn't, he would be violating his oath of office."

LAWRENCE V. TEXAS:

- As attorney general, General Pryor is obligated under state law to defend state laws against constitutional attack.
  - General Pryor has defended the Alabama law against sodomy in Lawrence v. Texas because if the Supreme Court were to agree broadly with the petitioners, Alabama's sodomy law could be effectively struck down. Unlike Texas's law, Alabama's law does not single out gays and lesbians for disparate treatment. As attorney general defending the state law, General Pryor advanced an argument based on existing Supreme Court precedent.

RACE:

- General Pryor has improved racial relations and protected racial equality in Alabama.
  - General Pryor helped start the drive to rid the Alabama Constitution of its racist prohibition on interracial marriage, and ultimately was victorious in November 2000. General Pryor, working with a coalition that included the NAACP, persuaded the Alabama Legislature to allow a vote on repealing the ban, and the Legislature ultimately agreed.
  - General Pryor successfully defended several majority-minority voting districts from a challenge by a group of white Alabama voters. The voters, who were residents of various majority-white voting districts, sued the state in federal court, claiming that the Alabama's voting districts were the product of unconstitutional racial gerrymandering. See Sinkfield v. Kelley, 531 U.S. 28 (2000) (per curiam).
  - General Pryor has been praised by a broad range of Alabama African-American leaders for his civil rights record and fairness, including Congressman Artur Davis, Dr. Joe Reed (the chairman of the Alabama Democratic Party's African-American caucus), and Cleo Thomas (Secretary of the Alabama Democratic Party).
  - General Pryor worked with and appointed Democrat U.S. Attorney Doug Jones to successfully prosecute former Ku Klux Klansmen Bobby Frank Cherry and Thomas Blanton Jr. for the 1963 bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama.
  - General Pryor has called for the amendment of certain aspects of section 5 of the Voting Rights Act to ensure appropriate balance and to provide greater state flexibility to ensure equal rights. General Pryor's record demonstrates that he is strongly committed to full and equal voting rights for African-Americans.
  - Democratic Attorney Generals have sought to improve section 5. In Georgia, the state has appealed to the Supreme Court in order to have its recent redistricting plan approved. In his brief before the Supreme Court, Thurbert Baker, the Democrat Attorney General of Georgia and an African-American, calls section 5 an "extraordinary transgression of the normal prerogatives of the states" and "a grave intrusion into the authority of the states."

TEN COMMANDMENTS/RELIGION:

- As state Attorney General, General Pryor defended Alabama Judge Roy Moore's display of the Ten Commandments. But General Pryor refused to turn the case into a referendum on the power of the federal government.
- General Pryor's argument about the display – that, within reason, the government may acknowledge and accommodate religion as being an important part of our nation's heritage – is within the legal mainstream.
- Last October, a federal district court judge ruled that a Ten Commandments monument on the northwest side of the Texas Capitol grounds did not violate the separation between church and state. Brandi Grissom, "Commandments displays embroiled in court battle," THE DAILY TEXAN, Nov. 20, 2002. The judge, United States District Judge Harry Lee Hudspeth, was a 1979 appointee of President Jimmy Carter.
- General Pryor did not endorse the views of former Alabama Governor Fob James, who threatened to use the National Guard or state troopers if necessary to defend Judge Moore's display.
- General Pryor worked tirelessly to promote the passage of the Alabama Religious Freedom Amendment ("ARFA") to the Alabama Constitution, which helps protect the religious freedom of political and religious minorities such as Native Americans and prisoners.
- In recognition for his efforts to promote the passage of ARFA and include protections for prisoners within its ambit, General Pryor was honored with the 1999 Guardian of Religious Freedom Award by Prison Fellowship Ministries, the Justice Fellowship, and Neighbors Who Care.

TOBACCO:

- General Pryor has agreed with numerous Democratic-appointed federal appellate judges that when a person is hurt by tobacco smoke, the victim but not the health provider can sue the tobacco company.
- Numerous Democratic-appointed judges and the unanimous federal circuit courts of appeal have agreed that there was no legal basis for plaintiffs to sue the tobacco industry. For example, the Ninth Circuit found no legal basis for plaintiffs to sue the tobacco industry. See Oregon Laborers-Employers Health & Welfare Trust Fund v. Philip Morris Inc., 185 F.3d 957 (9th Cir. 1999).
- The Senate has voted unanimously to confirm many of the federal judges that have found no legal basis for plaintiffs to sue the tobacco industry in these circuit court cases. Such judges include Judges Jose Cabranes, Chester Straub, and Jeremy Fogel, who were all nominated to the bench by President Clinton. See Oregon Laborers-Employers, 185 F.3d at 957; Laborers Local 17 Health & Benefit Fund v. Philip Morris, Inc., 191 F.3d 229 (2d Cir. 1999). Judges William Canby, Jr. and Norma Shapiro, who were nominated to the bench by President Carter, have also ruled similarly. See Oregon Laborers-Employers, 185 F.3d at 957; United Food and Commercial Workers Unions, Employers Health and Welfare Fund v. Philip Morris, Inc., 223 F.3d 1271 (11th Cir. 2000).

- Even though he believed the recent nationwide tobacco litigation was a litigation solution to a legislative problem, General Pryor promised Alabama taxpayers that he would “ensure that the state will receive its fair share of the proceeds” of any “proposed national settlement.” General Pryor did just that, securing $3.16 billion dollars for Alabamians in settling the case.

WOMEN:

- General Pryor has dedicated himself to serving and furthering the interests of women.
  - General Pryor has pressed for a variety of new laws to protect women from domestic violence and bring perpetrators of these crimes to justice, including bills that would create a state crime of domestic violence, increase penalties for repeat violations of protection from abuse orders, and add the date rape drug to Alabama’s drug trafficking statute.
  - General Pryor helped create innovative programs that help women, and has been a stalwart supporter of organizations seeking to improve the lives of Alabama women. General Pryor used funds from a class action settlement to create an novel program to help encourage victims of domestic violence to seek help, and has been a dedicated supporter of Penelope House, the first shelter designated for battered women and their children in the state of Alabama.

ARTICLE: An Amendment to the Constitution of the United States to Protect the Rights of Crime Victims: Exploring the Effectiveness of State Efforts by Jennifer J. Stearman, Esq.

SUMMARY:

... As part of a movement aimed at providing more balanced rights to crime victims, thirty-one states have approved victim rights amendments ("VRAs") to their state constitutions. ... Only three state VRAs--Arizona, Idaho, and Louisiana--provide a crime victim the right to refuse an interview related to the crime and initiated by the defense. ... The proposed federal amendment includes eight rights for crime victims: (1) the right to "reasonable notice" of public proceedings relating to the crime; (2) the right not to be excluded from public proceedings; (3) the right to be heard during proceedings to determine conditional release, acceptance of a negotiated plea and sentence, and parole proceedings; (4) the right to notice of release or escape from custody; (5) the right to be free from unreasonable delay; (6) the right to an order of restitution; (7) the right to have safety considered in determining conditional release from custody; and (8) the right to "reasonable notice" of these rights. ... In People v. Peters, the Supreme Court of Michigan also considered a crime victim's constitutional right to restitution. ...

"They explained the defendant's constitutional rights to the nth degree. They couldn't do this and they couldn't do that because of his constitutional rights. And I wondered what mine were. And they told me, I haven't got any." -- a victim

TEXT:

[*43] I. INTRODUCTION

Provisions in the United States Constitution specifically protect the rights of the criminally accused. <=3> n2 There are, however, no constitutionally guaranteed rights allocated to crime victims. <=4> n3 Consequently, crime victims often feel neglected and ignored in our criminal justice system.

<=5> n4

As part of a movement aimed at providing more balanced rights to crime victims, thirty-one states have approved victim rights amendments ("VRAs") to their state constitutions. <=6> n5 These VRAs have enjoyed wide margins of public support. <=7> n6 In 1996, the United States Congress began consideration of a federal VRA. Since then, the proposal for a federal VRA has received both earnest political consideration and strong bi-partisan support.

<=8> n7

[*44] Despite the apparent public support for VRAs, not everyone supports this sweeping movement. Some legal scholars have suggested that VRAs would only be "symbolic" victories, and would fail to provide any real expansion of crime victims' rights. <=9> n8 Scholars and legislators are also concerned about the potential impact a federal VRA would have on defendants' rights. <=10> n9 Recently, United States Senators, critical of the effort to enact a federal constitutional amendment regarding the rights of crime victims, suggested that before passing such legislation, "at a minimum, we should explore the effectiveness of the state efforts and the nuances of their various approaches before grafting a rigid, untested standard onto the U.S. Constitution."

<=11> n10

While much scholarly debate has transpired over the efficacy of a federal VRA, little scholarly inquiry has been devoted to assessing the actual effectiveness of those VRAs adopted and in use by the states. This article presents an initial step in the process of exploring the effectiveness of state efforts to provide constitutional rights to victims of crime. It is designed to address the concerns raised by Congressional leaders in considering the federal proposed amendment.

The article begins with a brief historical overview of the modern victims' rights movement, including the legislative history relevant to the proposed federal amendment and an examination of the current proposed federal amendment. It then provides a comparison of rights afforded crime victims by the variety of adopted state VRAs. Thereafter, the article surveys state appellate court decisions interpreting VRAs. In light of these rulings, the article suggests how the proposed federal amendment is likely to be construed.

II. BACKGROUND

A. The Modern Victims' Rights Movement in the United States

The political momentum of the modern crime-victim movement began to escalate during the 1970s, <=12> n11 when federal and state statutes aimed at providing rights for crime victims were enacted. <=13> n12 These statutes provided crime victims with monetary restitution and an enhanced opportunity to participate in the prosecution, sentencing, and parole of criminal defendants.

In 1982 President Ronald Reagan established a Presidential Task Force ("Task Force") to investigate the treatment of crime victims by the American criminal justice system. <=15> n14 The final report, issued by the Task Force in December 1982, made startling observations about the treatment of crime victims by the criminal justice system. <=16> n15 The Task Force observed that:

The American criminal justice system is absolutely dependent on [ ] victims to cooperate. Without the cooperation of victims and witnesses in reporting and testifying about [*45] crime, it is impossible in a free society to hold criminals accountable. When victims come forward to perform this vital service, however, they find little protection. They discover instead that they will be treated as appendages of a system appallingly out of balance. They learn that somewhere along the way the system has lost track of the simple truth that it is supposed to be fair and to protect those who obey the law while punishing those who break it. Somewhere along the way, the system began to serve lawyers and judges and defendants, treating the victim with institutionalized disinterest. <=17> n16

In response to its observations, the Task Force formulated sixty-seven recommendations for action, <=18> n17 including a modification to the Sixth Amendment of the United States Constitution to include a victims' rights provision. <=19> n18

The Task Force proposed the following language as an addition to the last sentence of the Sixth Amendment: "Likewise, the victim, in every criminal prosecution shall have the right to be present and to be heard at all critical stages of judicial proceedings." <=20> n19 The actions and findings of the Task Force have been considered a catalyst to the modern victims' rights movement. Indeed, in 1985 victims' rights advocates began to focus their efforts on amending state constitutions in order to secure rights that were more meaningful for crime victims. <=21> n20 The success of these efforts is evidenced by the enactment of victims' rights amendments in thirty-one states over the past sixteen years. <=22> n21

B. Political Efforts Towards a Federal Constitutional Amendment

No serious effort was made to amend the federal constitution until nearly fourteen years after the Task Force released its final report. Congressional action toward a federal constitutional amendment began during the 104th Congress when the Victims' Bill of Rights Constitutional Amendment ("Bill") was introduced in both the United States Senate and House of Representatives.

<=23> n22 The introduction of the Bill coincided with the 1996 presidential election and was endorsed by both Republican Presidential candidate Robert J. Dole and President William J. Clinton. <=24> n23 Both the United States House of Representatives and the Senate Judiciary Committee held public hearings on their [*46] respective Bills. <=25> n24 The 104th Congress, however, adjourned in October 1996 without taking action on either version of the proposed amendment.

On January 21, 1998, during the 105th Congress, Senators John Kyl and Dianne Feinstein reintroduced the Victims' Bill of Rights Constitutional Amendment.

<=26> n25 Likewise, on April 15, 1997, Representative Henry Hyde reintroduced the House version of the amendment in the United States House of Representatives. <=27> n26 Both the Senate and House Judiciary Committees held hearings on the proposed amendment. <=28> n27 Senators Kyl and Feinstein introduced a new version of the amendment on April 1, 1998. <=29> n28 On July 7, 1998, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted eleven to seven in support of the Resolution. <=30> n29

With each congressional session, the proposed federal amendment continues to be considered and enjoys bi-partisan support. In 1999, the version of the Bill adopted by the Senate Judiciary Committee was reintroduced in the Committee during the 106th Congress and additional public hearings were held in Committee. <=31> n30 On May 26, 1999, the Senate Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on the Constitution, Federalism, and Property voted in favor of Senate Joint Resolution 3, which would create a VRA to the United States Constitution. On September 30, 1999, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted twelve-to-five to recommend enactment of the Senate Joint Resolution that would create a VRA to the United States Constitution. In the House, on August 4, 1999, Ohio Representative Steven Chabot introduced a House version of the proposed federal VRA for consideration. <=32> n31

C. The Current Proposed Federal Constitutional Amendment

During the past three congressional sessions when the federal VRA has been considered, there have been incremental changes in the language and scope of the proposed amendment. This section examines the current language adopted by the Senate Judiciary Committee for the proposed federal amendment and compares the current language with significant changes from prior versions of the amendment.

The current proposed federal amendment is divided into five sections and provides:

Section 1: A victim of a crime of violence, as these terms may be defined by law, shall have the rights: to reasonable notice of, and not to be excluded from, any public proceedings relating to the crime; to be heard, if present, and to submit a statement at all such proceedings to determine a conditional release from custody, an acceptance of a negotiated plea, or a sentence; to the foregoing rights at a parole proceeding that is not public, to the extent those rights are afforded to the convicted offender; to reasonable notice of a release or escape from custody relating to the crime; to consideration of the interest of the victim that [*47] any trial be free from unreasonable delay; to an order of restitution from the convicted offender; to consideration for the safety of the victim in determining any conditional release from custody relating to the crime; and to reasonable notice of the rights established by this article.

Section 2: Only the victim or the victim's lawful representative shall have standing to assert the rights established by this article. Nothing in this article shall provide grounds to stay or continue any trial, reopen any proceeding or invalidate any ruling, except with respect to conditional release or restitution or to provide rights guaranteed by this article in future proceedings, without staying or continuing a trial. Nothing in this article shall give rise to or authorize the creation of a claim for damages against the United States, a State, a political subdivision, or a public officer or employee.

Section 3: The Congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation. Exceptions to the rights established by this article may be created only when necessary to achieve a compelling interest.

Section 4: This article shall take effect on the 180th day after the ratification of this article. The right to an order of restitution established by this article shall not apply to crimes committed before the effective date of this article.

Section 5: The rights and immunities established by this article shall apply in Federal and State proceedings, including military proceedings to the extent that the Congress may provide by law, juvenile justice proceedings, and proceedings in the District of Columbia and any commonwealth, territory, or possession of the United States. <=34> n33

The current version of the proposed federal VRA has subtle differences from earlier proposed amendments. In particular, the scope of the amendment has changed. Earlier versions of the proposed amendment provided that the amendment was applicable to "each victim of a crime of violence, and other crimes that Congress may define by law." <=35> n34 This language has been changed and now states that the amendment is applicable to "[a] victim of a crime of violence, as these terms may be defined by law." <=36> n35 Thus, the current version limits the applicability of the amendment solely to victims of violent crime.

In addition to establishing the scope of the proposed federal amendment, the first section establishes the affirmative rights of crime victims. Unlike most of the state VRAs, the proposed federal constitutional amendment does not mention the right of the victim to be "treated with fairness and respect."

<=37> n36 Among the rights conferred by the amendment are the right to notice of and not to be excluded from public proceedings related to the crime, to be heard, to receive notice of the accused's release from custody, the right to a trial free from unreasonable delay, to restitution, to consideration of the victim's safety in determining conditional release from custody, and to notice of the victim's rights. <=38> n37

After listing the affirmative rights granted to crime victims, section two of the proposed amendment addresses standing and limitations on enforcement of the amendment. <=39> n38 This section explicitly denies any grounds for a victim to stay or continue a trial or challenge a decision or conviction. <=40> n39 Section two also provides that violation [*48] of the amendment does not give rise to a claim for damages against the government. <=41> n40

The third section of the proposed amendment empowers Congress to enforce the article "by appropriate legislation." <=42> n41 Section three also limits exceptions to the rights conferred in the amendment to when "necessary to achieve a compelling interest." <=43> n42 Earlier versions of the proposed amendment empowered both the states and Congress to enforce the article, as well as to enact exceptions "required for compelling reasons of public safety or for judicial efficiency in mass victim cases." <=44> n43 The current version limits the power of enforcement to legislation by Congress, and is silent on the appropriate legislative body to enact exceptions to the article.

Sections four and five address the amendment's relevance. <=45> n44 The rights conferred in the proposed amendment are applicable to federal, state, District of Columbia, and other territorial proceedings. <=46> n45 These proceedings are deemed to include military and juvenile proceedings. <=47> n46

III. STATE VICTIMS' RIGHTS AMENDMENTS

A. A Comparative Analysis of State Victims' Rights Amendments

While the federal government continues to consider a constitutional amendment, many states already have adopted constitutional amendments providing rights to victims of crime. In 1982, California became the first state to adopt a constitutional amendment providing rights to crime victims. <=48> n47 California's amendment is narrow in scope, simply providing victims with the right to restitution, <=49> n48 that relevant evidence shall not be excluded in any criminal proceeding, <=50> n49 and that a judge shall consider public safety when setting bail amounts. <=51> n50

Four years after California adopted its VRA, Rhode Island became the second state to adopt a constitutional amendment providing rights to crime victims.

<=52> n51 Rhode Island's amendment is also comparatively narrow in scope, providing crime victims the "right to be treated by agents of the state with dignity, respect and sensitivity during all phases of the criminal justice process." <=53> n52 The amendment further provides restitution and the right to address the court at sentencing regarding the impact of the crime on the victim. <=54> n53

Thereafter, four other states adopted VRAs in the 1980s: Florida, <=55> n54 Michigan, <=56> n55 Texas, <=57> n56 and Washington. <=58> n57 With these new amendments also came new rights afforded to crime victims. The Michigan amendment, for example, provided nine enumerated rights to the crime victim: (1) to be treated with fairness and respect; (2) to timely disposition of the case; (3) to be reasonably protected from the accused; (4) to notification of proceedings; (5) to attend proceedings; (6) to confer with the prosecution; (7) to make a statement at sentencing; (8) to restitution; [*49] and (9) to information about the conviction, sentence, imprisonment, and release of the accused. <=59> n58

From these initial state amendments, the momentum of state VRA adoption gradually increased during the 1990s. Arizona passed a VRA in 1990, and New Jersey followed in 1991. <=60> n59 Between 1992 and 1994 eleven states enacted VRAs, <=61> n60 and eight additional states passed VRAs in 1996. <=62> n61 Today, the majority of states have adopted VRAs. <=63> n62

Despite the increasing number of states with VRAs, the existing VRAs vary widely in strength and scope. <=64> n63 The most common rights afforded crime victims in the state amendments are the right to notification of proceedings and the right to attend proceedings. <=65> n64 These two rights are, however, limited by language in some of the amendments. In some state amendments, a crime victim has constitutional rights to the extent that those rights do not interfere with the constitutional rights of the defendant. Other state amendments afford crime victims the right to attend proceedings, but limit this right by requiring that victims not be a material witness in the matter.

Another right, afforded in varying degrees by twenty-five of the state amendments, is the right to be heard at proceedings. <=66> n65 This right primarily refers to victim-impact testimony or testimony at sentencing. Sixty-four percent of the state amendments give victims a constitutional right to be treated with fairness, dignity and respect. <=67> n66

Several provisions appear in over one-third of the VRAs. One of these is the right of crime victims to be informed of their rights. <=68> n67 A second provision provides victims with the right to be protected from the accused.

<=69> n68 In addition, more than one-half of the VRAs provide one or more of the following rights: to confer with the prosecutor, to restitution, to be protected from the accused, to a speedy disposition, and to notice of the sentence, release, or escape of the perpetrator. <=70> n69

Other rights are less pervasive in the various state VRAs. VRAs in only five states--Alaska, Idaho, Missouri, South Carolina, and Utah--provide some rights or authorize the legislature to extend victims' rights at the juvenile level. Only three state VRAs--Arizona, Idaho, and Louisiana--provide a crime victim the right to refuse an interview related to the crime and initiated by the defense.

<=71> n70 New Mexico provides victims with the constitutional right to "have the prosecuting attorney notify the victim's employer, if requested by the victim, of the necessity of the victim's cooperation and testimony in a [*50] court proceeding that may necessitate the absence of the victim from work for good cause." <=72> n71

The actual terms of the VRAs tend to either be short, broad versions of the intended language or detailed enumerations of an individual's rights. <=73> n72 For instance, Florida's amendment simply states that victims are "entitled to the right to be informed, to be present, and to be heard when relevant, at all crucial stages of the criminal proceedings, to the extent that these rights do not interfere with the constitutional rights of the accused." <=74> n73 Similarly, Colorado's amendment states that victims "have the right to be heard when relevant, informed, and present at all critical stages of the criminal justice process." <=75> n74 On the other end of the spectrum are amendments in Arizona and South Carolina that each enumerate twelve specific rights of crime victims. <=76> n75

Half of the state amendments are silent on the question of enforcement.

<=77> n76 Another third provide that a violation of the rights shall not be a cause for civil damages, but do not preclude actions for injunctive relief.

<=78> n77 There are a variety of approaches to enforcement and limitations on the remedies provided victims. The Texas VRA specifically forbids a victim standing as a party in a criminal proceeding, and denies the right to contest the disposition of any charge. <=79> n78 The Maryland VRA prohibits the victim from being able to stay a criminal justice proceeding. <=80> n79 The Ohio VRA is more general and "does not confer upon any person a right to appeal or modify any decision in a criminal proceeding." <=81> n80 The VRAs for Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, and New Mexico, although silent as to a victim's standing, contain language limiting the impact of the VRA on the disposition of cases. <=82> n81

B. Appellate Interpretation of State Victims' Rights Amendments

To understand the potential interpretations and implications of the language in the proposed federal VRA, it is helpful to consider how state appellate courts have interpreted VRAs. This section considers relevant state appellate court interpretations of language in state VRAs similar to the proposed federal constitutional amendment. <=83> n82 In addition, other issues confronted in interpreting state VRAs are discussed including various state appellate court decisions that construe the definition of a victim. Also examined are decisions considering the appropriate result when a victim's constitutional rights conflict with a defendant's constitutional rights.

The proposed federal amendment includes eight rights for crime victims: (1) the right to "reasonable notice" of public proceedings relating to the crime; (2) the right not to be excluded from public proceedings; (3) the right to be heard during proceedings to determine conditional release, acceptance of a negotiated plea and sentence, and parole proceedings; (4) the right to notice of release or escape from custody; (5) the right to be free from unreasonable delay; (6) the right to an order of restitution; (7) the right to have safety considered in determining conditional release from custody; and (8) the right to "reasonable notice" of these rights. The interpretation of each of these proposed rights under analogous state VRA provisions is analyzed in this section.

[*51] 1. The right to "reasonable notice" of public proceedings relating to the crime

The first right of a crime victim in the proposed federal amendment is the right "to reasonable notice of . . . any public proceedings relating to the crime." <=84> n83 The right of the crime victim to be notified of proceedings involving his or her case is found in nearly every state constitutional amendment. <=85> n84 Several cases have interpreted the victim's right to be notified of proceedings involving the victim's case. In People v. Superior Court, <=86> n85 the Court of Appeal of California held that the failure of a probation officer to comply with that officer's duty to notify the crime victim of the probation and sentencing hearing did not deprive the trial court of jurisdiction to proceed. <=87> n86

In State v. Holt, <=88> n87 a Kansas court considered whether, under the Kansas state VRA, a crime victim is entitled to notice when a district court grants parole to a defendant convicted of a misdemeanor who has partially served the sentence. <=89> n88 The Supreme Court of Kansas held that the granting of parole to such a defendant was at the discretion of the trial court; therefore, crime victims did not have the right to be notified when the trial court determined, sua sponte, to grant parole to the defendant. <=90> n89 Although the Kansas Constitution provides crime victims with "the right to be informed of and to be present at public hearings," <=91> n90 in considering the appeal, the court noted that the implementing statutes to the state VRA lacked "any mandatory rights for crime victims, and the provisions are merely directive or permissive [and] there are no provisions for enforcement of the suggested rights and no sanctions imposed if they are not followed." <=92> n91 The court found that a public hearing for the purpose of granting parole to a misdemeanor defendant who has served a portion of the sentence was not purely discretionary and that no abuse of discretion had been shown. <=93> n92 In dicta, the court encouraged trial courts in cases involving parole to "carefully consider holding a public hearing and notifying crime victims in cases where the court deems it advisable and when it can be accomplished without undue burden on the judicial system." <=94> n93

In 1998, the Rhode Island Supreme Court considered whether a cause of action for monetary damages accrues against the state or its officers when there is a failure to notify the crime victims of their constitutional rights. <=95> n94 The court found that crime victims could not sue the state in an effort to compel the state to inform them of their rights. <=96> n95 In Bandoni v. State, <=97> n96 the victims were injured after being hit by a drunk driver. <=98> n97 The victims requested the state to update them on the criminal case against the driver. <=99> n98 The defendant was permitted to plead no contest to a lesser charge without the victims' knowledge. <=100> n99 Thereafter, the victims brought action against the state for failure to advise them of their rights as crime victims contrary to the Rhode Island VRA and Victim's Bill of Rights. <=101> n100 The victims alleged a negligence theory against the state for failure to notify them of the pending criminal case and demanded monetary damages under the [*52] state VRA. <=102> n101 The trial judge dismissed the action for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. <=103> n102 The appellate court declined to recognize either claim and found that there was no action for negligence arising from the Victim's Bill of Rights. <=104> n103 The court further held that the VRA was not self-executing, and "[did] not provide a sufficient rule by which the rights given may be enjoyed or protected." <=105> n104 In so holding, the court stated that the cause of action "must arise from the floor of the General Assembly and not from the bench of the supreme court." <=106> n105

Significantly, none of the VRAs, including the proposed federal VRA, provide a cause of action for damages in the event that officials who are charged with informing crime victims of their rights fail to provide such notice. Like the proposed federal amendment, approximately one-half of the states have VRAs providing that an official's noncompliance will not result in a cause of action for damages or the right to vacate an otherwise lawful conviction. <=107> n106 The remaining states have VRAs that are silent on the matter or empower the legislature to enact enforcement provisions. <=108> n107

2. The right not to be excluded from any public proceedings

Twenty-six state amendments include the right of victims to attend proceedings. <=109> n108 This right, however, is not uniform among state VRAs. Instead, the right to attend proceedings is granted in different degrees using varying language. In particular, some of the state VRAs do not refer to the right in the negative sense, "not to be excluded;" rather these state VRAs provide the affirmative right to attend proceedings. Appeals based on this right typically take the form of a defendant claiming that the victim's presence at the proceeding interfered with the right to a fair trial. Several state appellate courts have considered a victim's constitutional right to be present at proceedings related to the crime. <=110> n109

In State v. Beltran-Feliz, <=111> n110 the Supreme Court of Utah held that a victim exercising her state constitutional right to be present during the trial did not violate a defendant's rights under the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution. <=112> n111 The Utah Constitution provides that a victim has the right "upon request to be informed of, be present at, and to be heard at important criminal justice hearings related to the victim, either in person or through a lawful representative, once a criminal information or indictment charging a crime has been publicly filed in court . . . ." <=113> n112 State legislation further articulated the victim's right not to be excluded from trial. <=114> n113 On appeal, the defendant contended that the combination of the victim's presence in the courtroom, the victim's testimony as the last witness for the State, and a reference to the victim by the prosecutor as "our victim," had the cumulative effect of denying the defendant a fair trial. <=115> n114

The court in Beltran-Feliz held that to sustain this constitutional challenge, the defendant had the burden of proving that he was denied a fair trial, and must "show [*53] more than the mere possibility that [the victim] conformed her testimony to that of other witnesses." <=116> n115 The court found that the defendant's assertion, based only on a single reference that the victim's testimony was tailored in what was not suggested to be a critical element of the case, was insufficient to meet the burden of proving the defendant was prejudiced by the victim's rights. <=117> n116

The Arizona Supreme Court has also considered a victim's exercise of the right to be present at jury selection. In State v. Gonzales, <=118> n117 the court held the presence of victim of aggravated assault and armed robbery in a courtroom during jury selection did not prejudice or deny the defendant's right to a fair trial. <=119> n118 The court recognized that the victim had a constitutional right to attend all of the same criminal proceedings that the defendant had a right to attend. <=120> n119 The court also noted that there was no evidence that prospective jurors noticed the victim or knew who she was during jury selection. <=121> n120

Florida's appellate courts have considered a victim's right not to be excluded from proceedings on several occasions. In Bellamy v. State, <=122> n121 the defendant in a sexual battery prosecution claimed that his accuser could not be classified as a "victim" where the jury was not made aware that the accuser was declared a "victim" under the VRA amendment. <=123> n122 The court held that because the State did not attempt to call the accuser as a rebuttal witness, and because the accuser did not display any emotion or otherwise draw attention to herself while sitting in the courtroom, the Florida VRA did not destroy the defendant's presumption of innocence, or otherwise prejudice the jury against the defendant. <=124> n123

In Gore v. Florida, <=125> n124 a defendant was convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to death. <=126> n125 The defendant appealed the trial court's decision on the ground that the court erred in excusing the victim's stepmother from the rule of witness sequestration because she was a relative of the victim. <=127> n126 The court determined that the presence of the victim's stepmother in the courtroom during the trial did not prejudice the defendant in this case. <=128> n127 Notwithstanding, the court cautioned, "while in general relatives of homicide victims have the right to be present at trial, this right must yield to the defendant's right to a fair trial." <=129> n128

After Gore, the Florida Supreme Court heard Martinez v. Florida, <=130> n129 in which a defendant appealed his conviction on the grounds that the victim's constitutional right to be present conflicted with his right to a fair trial by having the witness sequestered. The court held that the victim should not have been permitted in the courtroom during opening statements. <=131> n130 Nevertheless, the court found this was a harmless error and affirmed the defendant's conviction. <=132> n131

[*54] 3. The right to be heard

The right to be heard under the proposed federal amendment includes the right to be heard, if present, at a "proceeding to determine conditional release, acceptance of a negotiated plea, or a sentence . . . [and] at a parole proceeding that is not public, to the extent [] afforded to the offender."

<=133> n132 Most state VRAs provide victims the right to be heard in criminal proceedings, particularly at sentencing hearings. <=134> n133 This right typically is exercised via oral or written victim-impact statements presented at sentencing. <=135> n134

In 1991, the United States Supreme Court addressed the use of victim-impact statements in capital sentencing. Although the Court in Payne v. Tennessee, <=136> n135 did not consider a state constitutional amendment, its ruling has been significant in a number of subsequent state-appellate court cases addressing VRAs and victim-impact evidence. <=137> n136 In Payne, the United States Supreme Court held that the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution, prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment, does not bar "the admission of victim-impact evidence during the penalty phase of a trial."

<=138> n137 This holding specifically relates to the use of victim-impact evidence at the sentencing phase of a capital crime. <=139> n138 Chief Justice Rehnquist, writing for the majority, traced the historical development of criminal sentencing philosophy, and noted that most of the states had approved admitting victim-impact statements at sentencing. <=140> n139 Payne resulted in an elimination of the constitutional bar to victim-impact statements in death-penalty cases. Consequently, Payne has allowed state courts to uphold victim-impact statement language in state constitutions and statutes.

i. Victim-impact evidence in state appellate courts after Payne

In view of the Supreme Court's holding in Payne, state appellate courts have consistently rejected defendant claims of due process, equal protection, right to confrontation, and cruel and unusual punishment violations in capital-sentencing cases where victims were permitted to introduce victim-impact evidence.

In State v. Gentry, <=141> n140 the Washington Supreme Court became the first state appellate court to consider victim-impact evidence while taking into account the holding in Payne and the Washington VRA. <=142> n141 The court in Gentry found that the state constitutional rights of a victim in criminal cases under the Washington VRA must be harmonized with a defendant's rights, including due process rights during the sentencing phase of trial. <=143> n142 The court acknowledged the "potential tension between the [*55] due process rights of the capital case Defendant" and the victim's rights that are created by the VRA. <=144> n143 Despite this tension between rights, the court held that victim-impact evidence was admissible at a proceeding considering death sentencing. <=145> n144 The court in Gentry explicitly limited its holding to the admissibility of victim-impact evidence in the sentencing phase of capital cases. <=146> n145

Subsequent to the holdings in Payne and Gentry, other states also considered the admissibility of victim-impact statements. In Kansas v. Gideon, <=147> n146 the Supreme Court of Kansas held that when victim-impact statements are made to a judge, not a jury, the victim's right to make a statement at a sentencing proceeding under the state's VRA did not violate the defendant's constitutional right to confrontation, equal protection, or due process.

<=148> n147 At trial, over the objection of the defendant, the deceased victim's family made statements regarding how the victim's death had affected them. <=149> n148 On appeal, the defendant argued that a sentence was imposed "under the influence of passion, prejudice, or other arbitrary factors." <=150> n149 The court held that although the trial court had mentioned the family's statements before sentencing, this did not demonstrate improper consideration of the victim's statements. <=151> n150

In State v. Muhammad, <=152> n151 the New Jersey Supreme Court reversed the lower court's denial of a victim's right to be heard at the sentencing hearing for a defendant charged with kidnapping, rape, and murder. Unlike Washington's VRA, the New Jersey VRA did not specifically allow for victim-impact statements at sentencing hearings. <=153> n152 As such, the court relied on Payne, the New Jersey VRA, and enabling legislation, which mandated that such statements could be admitted under certain circumstances.

<=154> n153 The court noted that "in the absence of the Victim's Rights Amendment, we might have continued to hold that victim-impact evidence should not be admitted during the sentencing phase of a capital case. However, the electorate, by passing the Victim's Rights Amendment . . . have mandated that victim-impact evidence be admitted." <=155> n154

Similarly, Arizona courts have held that a judge's decision to impose the death penalty is not affected by [*56] victim-impact evidence. <=156> n155 In State v. Mann, <=157> n156 victim-impact evidence was allowed to rebut a capital-murder defendant's mitigation evidence. The record did not indicate that the sentencing judge improperly gave weight to the opinions of the victim's immediate family members that the death penalty should be imposed.

<=158> n157 The sentencing judge stated that the finding of aggravating circumstances was based solely on evidence adduced at trial, and that he understood the family's feelings. <=159> n158 In upholding the decision in Mann, the Arizona Supreme Court endorsed the use of victim-impact evidence in capital sentencing.

ii. Sentence recommendations by crime victims

The Supreme Court in Payne made a distinction between victim-impact evidence "concerning a murder victim's personal characteristics or the impact of the crime on the victim's family and community," and victim-impact evidence providing the "opinions of the victim's family about the crime, the defendant and the appropriate sentence." <=160> n159 The Court did not address the issue of the constitutionality of a sentence recommendation by a victim in a death penalty case. Likewise, the state courts discussed above distinguished between the two types of statements, specifically approving descriptions of the impact of the crime on the victim's family. <=161> n160

In State v. Heath, <=162> n161 the Kansas Court of Appeals approved the use of a sentencing request by the victim's family. In Heath, the defendant, who was accused of driving while intoxicated, pled "no contest" to a charge of involuntary manslaughter. <=163> n162 State sentencing guidelines called for a presumptive prison term of up to five years, but the trial judge placed the defendant on five-years probation. <=164> n163 The court's decision to reduce the sentence was influenced by the urging of the victim's father. <=165> n164

Similarly, in Salt Lake City v. Johnson, <=166> n165 the Court of Appeals of Utah held that the trial court had authority to dismiss a domestic violence charge at the victim's request. <=167> n166 In another case regarding sentence recommendations by victims, the Missouri Court of Appeals in Sharp v. State, <=168> n167 held that a victim was permitted to make a sentencing recommendation despite the public prosecutor's plea agreement with the defendant not to recommend a sentence. <=169> n168

4. The right to notice of release or escape from custody

The proposed federal amendment and seventeen states provide the right to notice of sentence, release, or escape from custody. <=170> n169 Currently, no state appellate cases have substantially considered this constitutional right of crime victims.

[*57] 5. The right to be free from unreasonable delay

The proposed federal amendment and twelve states provide the victim with the right to be free from unreasonable delay. This right can be analogized to a defendant's right to a speedy trial. While much case law has developed interpreting a defendant's right to a speedy trial, no state appellate courts have decided issues regarding a victim's right to be free from unreasonable delay.

6. The right to an order of restitution

Nineteen states provide the right to an order of restitution in their VRAs. Appellate courts in Arizona and Michigan have considered this right. In State ex rel. McDougall v. Superior Court In and For County of Maricopa, <=171> n170 the Court of Appeals of Arizona held that a motorist, who pled guilty to leaving the scene of an automobile accident involving injury, could not be ordered to pay restitution for injuries resulting from the underlying accident where none of the injuries for which the state sought restitution was caused by motorist's criminal conduct of leaving the scene of accident. The Arizona Constitution provides victims with a right to restitution. Under article 2, section 2.1(A)(8), crime victims have a right to "receive prompt restitution from the person or persons convicted of the criminal conduct that caused the victim's loss or injury." <=172> n171 According to the court, the plain language of the constitutional provision "requires restitution only for losses caused by the criminal conduct for which [the] defendant was convicted." <=173> n172 Because the injuries for which restitution was sought involved the violation of a civil traffic offense, restitution was not warranted.

In People v. Peters, <=174> n173 the Supreme Court of Michigan also considered a crime victim's constitutional right to restitution. In Peters, the trial court entered a restitution order under authority of the Michigan VRA. On appeal, the Supreme Court of Michigan considered whether an order of restitution should abate where a convicted criminal defendant died pending appeal of his conviction. <=175> n174 The court reasoned that because the provision of the Michigan VRA providing crime victims the right to an order of restitution was primarily intended to compensate crime victims, rather than penalize a defendant, a restitution order should be enforced after a defendant's death.

<=176> n175 The restitution amount approximated losses incurred by the city fire department and amounts paid by defendant's insurer as a result of twenty-five fires in which arson was suspected, and the restitution order was entered under authority of the Michigan VRA and Crime Victim's Rights Act.

<=177> n176 The court distinguished between an instance where a defendant dies pending an appeal of a criminal conviction, and the status of fines, penalties, and orders that may accompany a criminal conviction. <=178> n177 The court held that where the intent behind a fine or order is to compensate the victim, the fine or order may survive the death of the offender. <=179> n178

7. The right to consideration of safety of victim in determining conditional release

Ten states provide crime victims the constitutional right to be protected from the accused. Not all of these states consider safety in determining conditional release. To date, no state court opinions have directly interpreted this constitutional right.

[*58] 8. The right to reasonable notice of rights

Ten states provide crime victims the constitutional right to be informed of their rights. <=180> n179 Arizona's intermediate appellate court considered the state's failure to inform a victim of her constitutional rights as provided by the Arizona constitution. <=181> n180 In State ex. rel. Hance v. Arizona Board of Pardons & Paroles, a rape victim brought a petition before the Court of Appeals of Arizona requesting that the court vacate an order by the Arizona Board of Pardon and Paroles (the "Board") releasing a prisoner. <=182> n181 The victim complained that she did not receive prior notice of either the parole hearing or her constitutional rights. <=183> n182 The Board had sent notice of the first parole hearing, however, the notice was sent to the victim's last known address and was returned as undeliverable. <=184> n183 No additional efforts were made to contact the victim and when the prisoner was released eight years after the initial hearing, the victim sued the Board. <=185> n184 In addition to not receiving proper notice of the hearing, the "victim was never informed of her constitutional right to request notice of and to participate in post-conviction release proceedings." <=186> n185

The Arizona Constitution provides that crime victims have the right "to be present at and, upon request, to be informed of all criminal proceedings where the defendant has a right to be present," as well as the right "to be heard at any proceedings involving a post-arrest release decision, a negotiated plea, and sentencing." <=187> n186 In addition, the Arizona Constitution provides victims the right to be informed of their constitutional rights. <=188> n187 Pursuant to these constitutional provisions, the Arizona Court of Appeals acknowledged that the state has an affirmative obligation to inform victims of their state constitutional rights. <=189> n188 The court refused to allow the victim's failure to request notice of the proceedings, as required under implementing legislation, to serve as a defense because the victim was not first informed of her constitutional rights. <=190> n189 In so holding, the court stated:

The constitutional mandate is clear: victims must be informed of their rights. Armed with this knowledge, victims may choose to exercise these rights. Conversely, an uninformed victim may not exercise her rights because she is unaware of them, or unaware that the right to notice of a release hearing requires that she first file a request for such a notice. <=191> n190

The court held that the failure to inform the victim of her constitutional right to request notice of and to participate in the proceedings violated her constitutional rights and rendered the release proceedings defective. <=192> n191

In Hance, the court further found that the Board failed to make "reasonable efforts" to locate the rape victim. <=193> n192 As a result, the victim's right to be informed of her state constitutional right to request notice of and to participate in the post-conviction proceedings concerning her attacker was violated. <=194> n193 The Arizona Court of Appeals held that the Arizona Constitution protects a victim's due process rights, <=195> n194 but due process requires only that efforts to [*59] provide notice must be

"reasonably calculated" to notify the individual. <=196> n195 Under these circumstances, the court found that the Board not only had failed to make reasonable efforts to locate the victim, but also had made no efforts to locate the victim "since it sent a letter to her last known address in 1984, a decade after the conviction." <=197> n196 Although the Board asserted that it satisfied its obligation to notify the victim by notifying the county attorney of the upcoming hearings, the court failed to find that notifying the county attorney was sufficient to provide notice to the victim. <=198> n197 The court in Hance held that, pursuant to Arizona statute, the appropriate remedy for the violation of the victim's right to notice of her constitutional rights was for the result of the release hearings to be set aside and have a new hearing ordered. <=199> n198

C. Appellate Interpretation of Crime Victim Attempts to Enforce State Constitutional Rights

Section two of the proposed federal amendment states that standing to enforce the amendment is limited to "the victim or the victim's lawful representative."

<=200> n199 In enforcement of victim's rights and standing, the differences in state court interpretations also appear to be a result of the differing language and limitations of each state's VRA.

Appellate courts in Colorado, Texas, Arizona, and Rhode Island have specifically held that crime victims cannot achieve standing under their respective state VRA. In Gansz v. People, <=201> n200 the Colorado Supreme Court refused to allow a disgruntled crime victim to contest the dismissal of a case. In State ex. rel Hilbig v. McDonald, <=202> n201 a Texas appellate court ruled that a crime victim lacked a constitutional right to review a prosecutor's file. In State v. Lamberton, <=203> n202 the Arizona Supreme Court held that the state VRA did not provide crime victims the right to file petitions for review in criminal cases.

In Bandoni v. Rhode Island, <=204> n203 victims of an automobile accident caused by a drunk driver brought an action for alleged violations of the state VRA and Victims' Bill of Rights. The Supreme Court of Rhode Island held that there was no cause of action for negligence in tort arising from the Victim's Bill of Rights. <=205> n204 Furthermore, the court refused to create a new cause of action. <=206> n205 Therefore, there was no monetary award for failure to comply with the VRA because it failed to provide for a private cause of action. <=207> n206 The court concluded that the state's VRA merely indicates principles, but lacks any rules by which to enforce those principles. <=208> n207

The New Jersey Supreme Court, in State of New Jersey in the Interest of K.P. D.O.B. 3/31/81, <=209> n208 held that a victim had standing to oppose a petition by a newspaper to open a juvenile sexual assault trial. <=210> n209 The court found that crime victims have an inalienable right to be present during a criminal proceeding subject only to rules concerning sequestration. <=211> n210

[*60] D. Other Issues Considered by Appellate Courts Interpreting Victim's Rights Amendments

This section addresses state appellate court decisions considering the definition of a victim and the appropriate result when a conflict arises between the constitutional rights of both the victim and the defendant.

1. Determining who is a victim

The definition of "victim" for most VRAs extends at least to the immediate family of the one who has been killed or is otherwise unable to speak. Some state appellate courts have interpreted this to include extended family, such as a sister-in-law. <=212> n211

In Kansas v. Parks, <=213> n212 the court held neither the state VRA, nor statutory bill of rights for crime victims, barred a murder victim's sister-in-law from submitting a victim-impact statement or from making a statement at the sentencing hearing. The court held that the VRA does not restrict the ability of non-victim and non-family members to testify and submit statements during the sentencing phase of criminal proceedings. <=214> n213 The court noted that the purpose of the enactment is "to guarantee rights, not restrict rights." <=215> n214

In State v. County of Maricopa, <=216> n215 the Supreme Court of Arizona held that the VRA does not require a victim to suffer personal injury in order to fall within definition of "crime victim." The court found that the owner and driver of an automobile damaged by an intoxicated driver qualified as a "victim" under the state's VRA, even though the owner was not injured. <=217> n216 Similarly, in People v. Beck, <=218> n217 the California appellate court held that the term "victims" was not limited to natural persons.

Arizona courts have also held a victim cannot be the "accused." The victim must be a victim as to the alleged criminal offense with which the defendant is charged. <=219> n218 In Knapp v. Martone, <=220> n219 the Arizona Supreme Court held that the mother of two children alleged to have been murdered was a "victim" under the Victims' Bill of Rights. As a victim, the mother could properly refuse a request of the defendant, her husband, to depose her, even though the defendant was charged with murder. <=221> n220 As an accessory, the mother was an unnamed and uncharged co-conspirator, but not an accused. <=222> n221 Similarly, in Stapleford v. Houghton, <=223> n222 the Arizona Supreme Court held that a person is not a victim for the purposes of the state constitution's Victims' Bill of Rights if that person is in custody or is the accused.

2. Balancing the rights of victims and defendants

One of the more important observations about VRAs is its potential for victims' rights to encroach upon the well-established constitutional rights of the criminal defendant. When faced with the issue, state appellate courts typically have sided with the countervailing rights of the defendant.

In State v. Bible, <=224> n223 the Arizona Supreme Court held that victims of crime and their families have certain rights, but those rights do not, and must not, conflict with defendant's right to a fair trial. In Bible, the prosecutor indicated in closing argument that not only did the defendant have rights, such as the right to a fair trial, but the victim [*61] also had rights under the Arizona VRA. <=225> n224 The prosecutor further suggested that it was the jurors' duty to protect the rights of both the defendant and the victim. <=226> n225 The court held that these comments, coupled with the prosecutor's opening statement that the goal of the trial was not necessarily to give the defendant a fair trial, but to do justice, were improper. <=227> n226

Similarly, the Arizona Supreme Court in Romley v. Superior Court in and for County of Maricopa, <=228> n227 found a direct conflict between a defendant's constitutional right to due process and the Victim's Bill of Rights. The court held that the due process clause of United States Constitution takes precedence over the provisions of a state constitution. <=229> n228 In Romley, the defendant, relying upon a justification defense, required access to medical records in order to cross-examine and impeach the victim. <=230> n229 The court recognized the right of the victim to refuse a defendant's discovery request for medical records, however, the court held that when the information is exculpatory and essential to presentation of the defendant's defense, or is necessary for impeachment of the victim, then the right of the victim must fail. <=231> n230

IV. DISCUSSION

Victim participation is an important element of our criminal justice system. We rely on victims to report the crime, testify, and facilitate prosecution. It is therefore reasonable that victims expect certain rights in the prosecutorial process. The criminal justice system is beginning to recognize the necessity of treating crime victims with fairness, dignity, and respect.

Balancing the rights of victims with the rights of defendants has proved to be a challenge to our system of criminal justice and has stirred much debate. Although some of the rights afforded crime victims by state VRAs have not been difficult to enforce--such as the right of the victim to provide victim-impact testimony at sentencing--upholding the rights of victims prior to the defendant's conviction presents a more serious challenge. For example, a jury may be unduly influenced by the victim's right to remain present during proceedings, or a defendant may be unjustly prejudiced by a victim's participation in the process. The rights of victims make it more difficult for the court to strike a fair balance between the defendant's right to a fair trial, and the victim's rights under a VRA. This difficulty undoubtedly has resulted in numerous appeals by defendants, a factor to be considered in any judicial economy analysis.

In view of the state appellate case law that has developed concerning the VRAs, problems have arisen that do not appear to be remedied in the drafting of the currently proposed federal VRA. As a practical matter, if a conflict arises, it is much easier for a judge to deny a victim his or her rights rather than provide a defendant an arguable issue to raise on appeal. Moreover, if the judge opts to deny the victim his or her state constitutional rights, it is difficult for the victim to obtain redress. A criminal defendant, however, who is denied his or her constitutional rights may have a conviction overturned or seek civil damages under civil rights law. No such remedies are provided to the victims of crime. Thus, the proposed federal constitutional amendment appears to fall victim to the problems suffered by its state counterparts, in that there is no legitimate enforcement mechanism. The proposed federal amendment explicitly limits the remedies provided, while establishing none.

Notwithstanding the lack of an explicit enforcement mechanism, the case law that has developed under the state counterparts of the proposed federal VRA tend to reveal only limited problems with the enactment of such a Constitutional Amendment. This survey of case law reveals that state appellate courts have addressed the largest fears of those opposing a federal VRA--that a defendant's [*62] rights will be hindered. When faced with legitimate conflicting rights, state appellate courts have consistently acknowledged that the liberty rights of defendants are paramount.

V. CONCLUSION

Amending the United States Constitution is a long and arduous process. Even if Congress approves the proposed amendment, ratification by three-fourths of the state legislatures within seven years is still required. In this country's history, it is rare that an issue has garnered enough support to warrant the substantial step of a Constitutional Amendment. Only time will tell if the political momentum of the modern victims' rights movement will endure to effectuate an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to protect the rights of crime victims.

FOOTNOTES:

n1 PRESIDENT'S TASK FORCE ON VICTIMS OF CRIME: FINAL REPORT, at 114 (1982) [hereinafter FINAL REPORT].

n2 See U.S. CONST. amend. IV (providing freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures and requisite probable cause for issuance of warrant); U.S. CONST. amend. V (requiring a grand jury indictment for trial on a capital offense, prohibiting double jeopardy, protecting against self-incrimination, guaranteeing due process of law); U.S. CONST. amend. VI (providing in criminal trials the right to a speedy, public trial by an impartial jury, the right to notice of charges, the right to confront witnesses, and the right to an attorney); U.S. CONST. amend. VIII (prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment).

n3 Several legal commentators have attempted to provide an explanation for the lack of constitutional provisions protecting the rights of crime victims. See generally Richard Barajas & Scott Alexander Nelson, The Proposed Crime Victims' Federal Constitutional Amendment: Working Towards a Proper Balance, 49 BAYLOR L. REV. 1, 8-11 (1995) (providing historical information regarding the role of the crime victim and indicating that the English common law tradition was one of private prosecutions); Jennie L. Caissie, Passing the Victims' Rights Amendment: A Nation's March Toward a More Perfect Union, 24 NEW ENG. J. ON CRIM. & CIV. CONFINEMENT 647, 649-53 (1998) (describing the evolution of the justice system that initially provided private prosecutions in England and Colonial America, to a more organized criminal-law system which includes public prosecutions); Kathleen Kalaher, The Proposed Victim's Rights Amendment: Taking a Bite Out of Crime or a Dog With No Teeth?, 22 SETON HALL LEGIS. J. 317, 323-324 (1997) (examining the historical background of the victim's rights movement, and tracing the evolution underlying the movement from private actions against the defendant to state involvement); Thad H. Westbrook, At Least Treat Us Like Criminals!: South Carolina Responds to Victims' Pleas for Equal Rights, 49 S.C. L. REV. 575, 576-78 (1998) (tracing the United States system of justice to early English law that placed responsibility for justice on the victim, not the modern-day prosecutor).

n4 See generally FINAL REPORT, supra note 1, at 114 (documenting crime victim testimony that reflects frustration and feelings of re-victimization by the criminal justice system due to institutionalized disinterest); Paul G. Cassell, Balancing the Scales of Justice: The Case for and the Effects of Utah's Victims' Rights Amendment, 1994 UTAH L. REV. 1373, 1375 (stating that crime victims "have come to believe that the criminal justice system is out of balance, that their voices are not heard, and that the system is preoccupied with defendants' interests and rights").

n5 Over the past sixteen years, thirty-one states have amended their constitution to add victim rights amendments (dates of passage are indicated in parentheses). See ALA. CONST. amend. 557 (1994); ALASKA CONST. art. I § 24 (1994); ARIZ. CONST. art. II, § 2.1 (1990); CAL. CONST. art. I, § 28 (1982); COLO. CONST. art. II, § 16a (1992); CONN. CONST. art. I, § 8(b) (1996); FLA. CONST. art. I, § 16 (1988); IDAHO CONST. art. I, § 22 (1994); ILL. CONST. art. I, § 8.1 (1992); IND. CONST. art. I, § 13(b) (1996); KAN. CONST. art. XV, § 15 (1992); LA. CONST. art. 1, § 25 (1998); MD. DECL. OF RIGHTS art. 47 (1994); MICH. CONST. art. I, § 24 (1988); MISS. CONST. art. 3 § 26A (1998); MO. CONST. art. I, § 32 (1992); NEB. CONST. art. I, § 28 (1996); NEV. CONST. art. I, § 8(2)

(1996); N.J. CONST. art. I, 22 (1991); N.M. CONST. art. II, § 24 (1991); N.C. CONST. art. I, § 37 (1996); OHIO CONST. art. I, § 10(a) (1994); OKLA. CONST. art. II, § 34 (1996); R.I. CONST. art. I, § 23 (1986); S.C. CONST., art. I, § 24 (1996); TENN. Const. art. 1 (1998); TEX. CONST. art. I, § 30 (1989); UTAH CONST. art. I, § 28 (1994); VA. CONST. art. I, § 8(A) (1996); WASH. CONST. art. I, § 35 (1989); WIS. CONST. art. I, § 9(m) (1993).

n8 See, e.g., Robert P. Mosteller, Victims' Rights and the United States Constitution: An Effort to Recast the Battle in Criminal Litigation, 85 GEO. L.J. 1691, 1692-94 (1997) (stating that a federal amendment is "unnecessary symbolism at best," and speculating that the amendment would provide little direct impact for crime victims); Richard E. Wegrzyn, New Jersey Constitution Amendment for Victims' Rights: Symbolic Victory? 25 RUTGERS L.J. 183, 207-08 (1993) (predicting that although a "victim in New Jersey can now say she has a constitutional right to fair treatment . . . this will likely be the most substantial effect of the Amendment.").

n9 See, e.g., S. REP. NO. 105-409, at 64-67 (1998); Mosteller, supra note 9, at 1693.

n10 S. REP. NO. 105-409, at 69 (1998). This suggestion was asserted by Senate Judiciary Committee members Patrick Leahy, Ted Kennedy, and Herb Kohl. See id.

n11 Several commentators trace the origin of the modern victims' rights movement to grass-roots programs formed in the early 1970s. See, e.g., Andrew J. Karmen, Who's Against Victims' Rights? The Nature of the Opposition to Pro-Victim Initiative in Criminal Justice, 8 ST. JOHN'S J. LEGAL COMMENT. 157, 158-59 (1992) (tracing the victim rights movement to members of self-help support groups and outreach groups in the 1970s with a common desire to turn their victimization into something positive).

n23 See President William J. Clinton, Remarks by the President at Announcement of Victims' Rights Constitutional Amendment, 32 WEEKLY COMP. PRES. DOC. 1134 (June 25, 1996). In announcing his support of the federal proposed VRA, President Clinton stated:

Having carefully studied all of the alternatives, I am now convinced that the only way to fully safeguard the rights of victims in America is to amend our Constitution and guarantee these basic rights--to be told about public court proceedings and to attend them; to make a statement to the court about bail, about sentencing, about accepting a plea if the victim is present, to be told about parole hearings to attend and to speak; notice when the defendant or convict escapes or is released, restitution from the defendant, reasonable protection for the defendant and notice of these rights.

n24 The full Senate Judiciary Committee held hearings on the proposed victims' rights constitutional amendment on April 23, 1996. Representative Henry Hyde, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, conducted a full-committee hearing on the proposed amendment on July 11, 1996. On September 30, 1996, Senators Kyl and Feinstein introduced a new version of the proposed amendment in the Senate.

n28 See S.J. Res. 44, 105th Cong., 2nd Session (1998). The new amendment changes the operative language from "victims of crime" to "victims of violent crime."

n30 See S.J. Res. 3, 106th Cong. (1999). For the language of the proposed amendment, see infra Part II.C. On January 19, 1999, Senators Kyl and Feinstein reintroduced the VRA in the 106th Congress based on the earlier version adopted by the Senate Judiciary Committee. See id. On March 24, 1999, the Senate Judiciary Committee held a public hearing on the Joint Resolution.

n31 H.J. Res. 64, 106th Cong. (1999).

n32 The proposed House version of the VRA contains provisions similar to the version adopted by the Senate Judiciary Committee on September 30, 1999. One important distinction is that H.J. Res. 64 would encompass victims of all felony crimes and "any other crime that involves violence."

n60 The eleven states adopting constitutional amendments between 1992 and 1994 were: Alabama, Alaska, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Missouri, Ohio, Utah, and Wisconsin. See id.

n61 The eight states adopting constitutional amendments in 1996 were: Connecticut, Indiana, Nevada, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, and Virginia. See id.

n62 See id. While Montana does not have a constitutional amendment analogous to these states, in November 1998, Montana voters approved a more limited constitutional amendment that broadens the state's criminal justice system to include restitution to the crime victim. See MO. CONST. art. I, § 32 (1992).

Additionally, Oregon voters ratified a crime victims' rights amendment to the state constitution in 1996. See OR. CONST. art. I, § 42 (1996). The Oregon VRA was the most comprehensive of any of the state amendments, providing 14 enumerated rights for crime victims. See id. In 1998, however, the Oregon Supreme Court invalidated the amendment on the ground that it combined several distinct constitutional amendments that should have been voted on separately under the state's constitutional provisions governing amendments through an initiative petition. See Armatta v. Kitzhaber, 959 P.2d 49 (Or. 1998).

In addition to Montana and Oregon, the remaining states without a state constitutional amendment that provides victims' rights are: Delaware, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont, West Virginia, and Wyoming.

The court briefly discussed Payne and the state's victim's rights constitutional amendment in upholding the use of the statute. It held that victim-impact evidence may be admitted because "such evidence is relevant in sentencing, as it informs the jury . . . of the particular harm caused." Id. at 872.

When victims' statements are presented to a jury, the trial court should exercise control. Control can be exercised, for example, by requiring the victim's statements to be in question and answer form or submitted in writing in advance. The victim's statement should be directed toward information concerning the victim and the impact the crime has had on a victim and the victim's family. Allowing the statement to range far afield may result in reversible error.
